

Pierce PTA's Annual 'School Fair' Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon

Tomorrow, Friday the 21st, is the day of the annual Pierce School Fair, with plenty to do and see from 3:30 till after the evening show.

Tickets for the show were sent home the first of the week, and money or unwanted tickets should be returned to school by this afternoon, the committee asks. Donations for booths will be sorted and priced by the booth chairman to night in the school library room.

"There'll be lots of ways to have fun," says Pather Vice-President Russell Richardson, who is in charge of this major money-raising project of the year.

Festivities will begin as soon as school is out in the afternoon. Children will run to try their luck at the fish pond and the games room, to sample the candy and popcorn, and to buy comics, books, Christmas cards and gifts. And for their parents special attention—the canned goods, the bakery shelf, plants, handiwork, white elephant, Girl Scout handiwork, and gift tables. Special booths will serve ice cream, coffee and cider and doughnuts.

Free movies will be shown in the school auditorium at 4:30 in the afternoon. At 8 in the evening, three of Detroit's finest professional entertainers—Lew Lew, the clown, Don Amato, the juggler, and Jaxon and Jerry Gordon, the ventriloquist, will take over.

Booth chairmen are Mrs. J. D. Tussey, Mrs. E. B. Palmer, Mrs. Fred McCullough, Mrs. Victor Peck, Mrs. David Blakeley, Mrs. Malcolm Tindall, Mrs. E. E. Reddes, Mrs. Tom Harris, Mrs. Fred Aldred, Mrs. Russell Richardson, Mrs. James Mogg, Mrs. O. Henry Tideman and Mrs. Buck Sullivan.

Business Women to Have Social Evening

Mrs. Cleo Cook is chairman of the social and game meeting of the Birmingham Business Women's Club which will be held this (Thursday) evening in the Community House at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Cook will be assisted in making arrangements by Mrs. Hazel Lawler, Miss Carrie Bassett and Mrs. Harriet Mudge.

Cranbrook to Show 'Life' Exhibition

"The Age of Enlightenment," a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of LIFE, will be shown at Cranbrook School through Nov. 30. The exhibition is based on the article which appeared in a recent issue of LIFE in its series of essays on the development of Western Culture.

Organized under three sections (Versailles, Paris and Age of Enlightenment), the exhibition presents a pictorial analysis of one of the great epochs in the history of Western Culture. In the first section, Versailles stands forth as a symbol of Bourbon glory, vast and corrupt yet still powerful.

Conflict of Ideas
The second section presents the resolute vitality of Paris and the philosophers—a bourgeoisie vitality that made that beautiful city the intellectual capital of the world. Voltaire, Rousseau, Diderot, Montesquieu, Lavoisier, all of them contributed to the systematic examination of man and his surroundings.

The third section reveals the impact upon "the people" of the conflict between the ideas of Enlightenment and the old regime. The exhibition closes with the Oath of the Tennis Court and The Coronation of Napoleon.

Among the artists and architects whose work is included are Boucher, Fragonard, Nutter, Rigaud, Watteau, Moreau le Jeune, David, Drouais, Debucort, Greuze, Ledoux, Delamare and Soufflot, as well as many engravings, prints and miscellaneous photographs.

Life in Baffin Land to Be Described by Noted Eskimo Woman

On Friday morning, Nov. 28, at 11 o'clock on Detroit Town Hall at the Cass Theatre Annex (Annex), the only Eskimo woman on the American platform, author of "The Land of the Shadows," will speak on the subject, "The Story of Baffin Land," a spontaneous, natural and humorous story of habits and civilization of the Far North.

Anaata was born and grew to womanhood on the northern tip of Baffin Island, about four hundred miles from the North Pole where about 3,000 people are on the face of the earth. Anaata, the accidental death of her husband, came to this country, soon became an American citizen and have entered into all the complexities of our country, and learned the English language.

Santa Claus will be at the Colonial Shopping Center, 14-Mile Rd. at Woodward Ave., from 7 to 9 p.m. on the evening of Dec. 12th, for the express purpose of awarding four prizes for the best costume worn by children. Cards made by the children must be provided by Dec. 15th and must be deposited for any card entered in the contest. Voting will be on the basis of originality of design and age of contestant. Why not encourage your child to participate?

The House of Sterling Reaveley, that ultra-smart beauty salon at 2328 Woodward Ave., Pleasant Ridge, is showing a number of hand made gifts that are truly exciting. Any teenager would adore a hand-knit scarf and glove set, mittens, bed sock, or skating sock. And for that hard to please friend you'll find exquisite combs imported from France, hand bags skillfully designed of striking fabrics, and some of the best looking costume jewelry I've found yet. And don't forget—the shop carries a full line of Dermetics cosmetics.

Food delicacies galore are now being shipped daily from Milwaukee, in the heart of Wisconsin's dairyland, to our own Wisconsin Cheese Mart, Woodward Ave. just south of 14-Mile Rd. The shop now has Weisell's Sausage (try the summer sausage for sure) Slicing Rye Bread, and Jaeger's Milwaukee Pumpernickel bread. And from the "old south" come Todd's Old Virginia Ham and Corned Beef with that rich smoky flavor. Unless you're an addict already (we are), be sure to try Wisniewski's tanga and tasty. The Cheese Mart will ship gift packages of assorted cheeses, anywhere.

It's fireplace time at Brass Unlimited! And there is nothing that will add such a cheery note to your living room during holiday entertaining as a new set of gleaming solid brass fireplace fixtures. Brass Unlimited, Woodward Ave. at the 14-Mile Rd., carries a complete stock of fireplace fixtures in that are in perfect taste, in the size you need, and at the price you want to pay. This unusual store displays no plated fireplace fixtures of any kind, so you can be sure of solid brass that retains its beauty for years and years.

You'll have less fuss and feathers (we mean pin feathers) in getting ready for Thanksgiving this year if you hurry and order one of the luscious corn fed turkeys from F. & J. Food Market & Lockers, Woodward Ave. at the 14-Mile Rd. Just call 2468 and specify whether you want a hen or a tom, and tell them the approximate weight you want. And when that deer hunting husband of yours comes home with his prize buck, have him take it to F. & J. who will process and freeze it for only $8, and you can still rent a locker to store it.

I felt just like a modern Mrs. Noah this week, looking over all of the cuddly stuffed animals that will inhabit the Oldie Lantern Shop, 151 S. Woodward, until Santa picks them up for Christmas delivery. There are stuffed horses, elephants, a green felt turtle (imagine), and even a giraffe, that will delight any child. And there are children's purses in animal shapes that are Oh-so-clever—lost my heart to a gray felt elephant with a red blanket, and a pink bunny with blue trousers. And be sure to see the pine replicas of Early American decorative cabinet work.

What could be a nicer Christmas present for Mother than a brand new kitchen? Impossible? Not if you turn the whole problem over to Famous Lumber & Supply Co., 1640 Hilton at Nine Mile Rd., Ferndale—telephone Lincoln 2-7171. Skilled cabinet makers employed by Famous will build cupboards to exactly fit the space you have available, and you can select any type sink and drain-board you want. And all this can be done on F.H. terms with no down payment and three full years to pay—so why wait? Call Famous for an estimate today.

HOW TO Care For Your Dog

By Erik Bergshagen

(Bergshagen, well-known Birmingham authority on dogs, their care and habits, welcomes letters from readers concerning special dog problems. Write him in care of The Eccentric.)

Jaundice

Jaundice is a symptom often seen in the dog and often mistaken for a condition in itself. Jaundice is not a primary condition or disease but a symptom of some other disease which is affecting the body, causing the bile fluids to dam up and appear in the blood stream.

Jaundice is caused in many ways, the simplest being obstruction to the bile duct which opens into the small intestine. This obstruction is strictly mechanical and may be due to worms, catarrhal conditions of the bowel or on rare occasions to tumors and cysts.

Jaundice may also be caused by a specific disease such as Biliary Fever, by diseases or disorders of the liver itself, from toxins due to poisons and a condition known as Leptospirosis.

Use Mild Laxative

In all cases of jaundice, your veterinarian will attempt to determine the causative agent or factor so that treatment may be aimed not only at restoring the normal flow of the bile salts but also at removing the cause.

Except for those jaundices caused by the specific infectious diseases, you can aid your dog by watching that his bowels move normally and resorting to a mild laxative such as milk of magnesia as soon as hard stools are noticed. Obstructive jaundice is most frequently due to a solidly packed bowel.

Consult your veterinarian immediately if your dog shows a yellowish discoloration of the membranes of the eye or mouth. Jaundice can best be treated in the early stages when the vitality of the animal has not been sapped.

It pays to share the line

With telephone facilities still short, you may be one of those who share a party line. If you are, you'll want to co-operate with your telephone neighbors to get good service. Keeping your calls brief helps—so does spacing them some time apart. Remember, too, to put back the receiver after each call. And, if your neighbor has an emergency call to make, naturally you will let him have the line. Michigan Bell Telephone Company.
