KAISER

NOW...

Compare the Ride!

You've driven big ones. You've driven small ones. But until you drive the KAISER or the FRAZER you still have something to learn about driving pleasure! These amazing new cars give you a ride no other car can equal!

Here's why. The KAISER and the FRAZER are genuine postwar motor cars. They give you the benefit of engineering advances that simply have not yet been incorporated into other cars! A few cars will add some of these features next year, obsolescing their this year's models. KAISER and FRAZER give you all these advantages now. Prove it for yourself. Drive the rest—then compare the ride!

YOU CAN GET ONE SOONER THAN YOU THINK!

HIGHLIGHTS

The start of a busy week end was Thursday night's football game where we found Tom Mills, John Chantler, John Martin, Guy Tunnell, Ward Abbott, Sally Scott, Carol Peterson, Jo Daisher and Barb Hughes cheering on the White.

Seen ducking streams of water Friday night at the Halloween party were Julie Harrier, Barbara, Jack Goodwin, Judy Olson, Dick Jeffers, Mary Ann Hainey, Tom House, Sally Warner, and some of the water pistol players were Colin Campbell, Stan Smith, Tom Wyles, Charlie Thomas and Don McCombs.

Dropping over to the Community House we saw dancing Walt Bodie, Carlisle Metzger, Clay Boyce, Boots Parks, Bevan Allen and Nancy Jackson.

The town that time forgot was remembered Saturday night when Tri-A held their "Fall Brats". During the course of the evening we saw wandering among the corn stalks George Burdick, Margie Erwin, Ken MacQueen, Ginny Dare, Howdy Livehance, Miley McIntyre, Don Degeen, Nancy Caryl, Dick Shalberg, Mary Haladay, Doug Dourman, Carol Peterson, John Parsons, Cliver Hartsch, Jack Pomeroy and Sue Hartsch.

Those enjoying a pleasant Sunday afternoon while watching a girls' football game at Quaton were Bill Downey, Pat Wall, Lee Bodie, Carlisle Metzger, Clay Boyce, Boots Parks, Bevan Allen and Nancy Jackson.

Novel Half-Time
Program by Band

Phil Allen

Winding up the 1947 home football season, the Birmingham band put on a novel performance between halves at the Port Huron football game last Thursday evening with a radio movie show called "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Announcer Jim Egan told the story over the P.A. while the band played the dramatic background music. Assisting the band were Larry Hotchkiss, Gap Resborough, Marge Harne, Margaret Erwin and John Lorking who participated in the story as it was being told and gave the local football fans a few laughs.

The band still has the Royal Oak game, after which Arnold W. Berndt, director, plans to switch to concert music and start planning for the annual spring concert. The 1947 band isn't quite as large as last year's. It participated in the annual Halloween celebration last Friday, leading the parade and playing snappy marches. Helen Woolson and Shirley Quinn are the drum majors.

Boys' Clubs End
6-Weeks' Pledging

Many a sigh of relief was heard last Saturday night as the junior members of the boys' clubs at Baldwin ended their six weeks of pledging.

That night Black and White welcomed Chuck Baker, Dean Berry, Bill Downey, Dick Greig, Howard Liverance, Jim Lorking, Ken MacQueen, Dick Mott, Chuck Olin, Pete Plunstead and Dick Shalberg into membership at the home of Jim McCall, 617 Glenhurst.

Added to the membership of D. J. F. R. at the home of Bill Robertson, 2935 Brookside, that same night were Jim Dadds, Bob Hardy, Gene Hesse, Tom Maxwell, Howard Murray, Joe Ross, Phil Savage and Gordon Silsby.

K. S. T. club's new members initiated Wednesday night at the home of Tom Mills, 656 Chester.

A good time was enjoyed by those who attended annual Big Sister-Little Sister picnic in the high school gym last week.

The new girls and their "big sisters" participated in handball, tennis, and basketball in the gym and then ate box lunches and played snappy games.

After the picnic, Anne Lundberg, president of the G.A.A., gave a short talk on the activities of the club.

The American Legion now has a record total of 16,425 posts in its 58 departments throughout the world.

Baldwin Organizes
New Y-Teen Club

Everything from shuffle-baking to soccer playing will be included on the slate for the newly-organized Y-Teen Club at Baldwin under the direction of Miss Margaret Herbinson, girls' gym teacher, and Miss Virginia Hawkins, home economics instructor.

Meeting with these advisers last week to discuss future plans for the club were Eloise Rowley, Gorry Woolley, Ruth Snider, Shirley Burnett, Mary Lou Mulholland, Audrey Engel and Sally Howard who set Wednesday afternoon as the time for the weekly meetings.
