

High School Band Appears for First Time This Fall

By Gerry Hughes

With the football season under way, we again see the shining splendor of the high-stepping Birmingham high school band.

The Maple music makers, under the baton of Arnold W. Berndt, made their initial appearance on the field at last Friday's game with the introduction of a new and impressive flag-raising ceremony.

Starting the game with due respect to the flag, the Birmingham band met the color bearers at the midway strip of the field. All members stood at attention while beautiful sky rockets pierced the black sky.

At the conclusion of this display, the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The ceremony provided not only a patriotic but also a very colorful spectacle for the many fans.

Good crop rotation is an important step in a land management program.

Harriers Defeat Royal Oak Team

By Pete Abbrecht

Taking five of the first seven places, the Birmingham cross country team successfully opened the 1947 season last Friday by defeating Royal Oak, 20-36, on the Royal Oak course.

Maintaining a fast, steady pace over the two-mile course, Bill Hickman took first for the Magda harriers with the time of 16:50. Jim Anderson placed second, passing Baldwin of Royal Oak on the final split.

Fourth, sixth, and seventh places went to Pete Abbrecht, Jerry Neumann, and George Allen. The fact that the first six runners were so closely bunched indicates that this year's squad will be well balanced.

Birmingham also won the reserve meet, 25-32.

Baldwin Group Draws Up Plan for EML Members

Undergoing several minor modifications, the governing document of the Eastern Michigan Congress of Student Governments was approved by the Birmingham school at yesterday's bi-monthly Student Congress meeting.

The constitution was approved by the Birmingham school at yesterday's bi-monthly Student Congress meeting. The constitution has a number of amendments of the other Eastern Michigan members before it is finally ratified at the league conference here Oct. 18.

Each school having drawn up what was considered an ideal constitution, delegates from the several institutions assembled last spring at Ferndale and Birmingham to mold out of the multitude of ideas an equitable and enduring structure.

Baldwin's constitution committee, made up of Austin Jones, Jim Milliken, Fred McWhorter, Bill Plant and Dick Adams, devoted many hours to pondering over the Magda's constitution toward this inter-school project.

Main Business The final ratification will be one of the main articles of business on the agenda for the coming conference in Ferndale and Birmingham. Russell Barnes, international correspondent for the Detroit News, is to be the speaker for the day.

The journalism class began work this week on a combination program and newspaper, one of the features for this initial league gathering.

Under advisement of Miss Vida McGiffin, the students are accumulating from the various member schools information for an interesting souvenir paper or program.

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

My but were we confused Friday night with the changing of shirts by our team? We squinted and peered trying to figure out one player from the other. Some others in the same perplexing situation were Jo Burdick, Audrey Engel, Marcel Levy, Janet Steeb, Adella Wilson and Sally Back.

Others having a hard time finding certain players were Sue Hatter, Nancy Guent, Jo Kleinhart and Ginny Schaffer.

The 12A concession helped warm quite a few with its goodies. A few of those aiding the half frozen spectators were Bark Carter, Lois Uppliger, Yvonne Engel and L. L. Raymond.

The dance attracted many a spectator from the game: Nam Mosby, Jim Helmrich, Peg Gould, Bob Lyons, Fred McWhorter, Don Conkole, Carl Strahlow, Don Runkel, Carol Peterson and Dale Pearson.

"Annie, get up! You're wanted on the telephone." That was the call Anne heard through the door of her inner sanctum.

"I'll be in 15 minutes. We're going to dinner." That was the cheerfulness news. Ho, hum. So, too early Saturday morning for Baldwin faces with the problems of poor Huck. Facing his trials and tribulations also were Johnny Barlen, Mary Gilchrist, Carolyn Metzger, Pat Shiner and Sara Brotenstein.

Also competing were George Hughes, Larry Hotchkins, George Burdick, Jack Pomeroy, Ricky Cunningham and thousands and thousands of little kids.

Saturday evening: The Dasher house was alive with the confusion of people. Everyone from the lowest sophomore to the most glorious alum seemed to gather for food and to make noise.

When we arrived we heard Frankly Lyles' "Black and Blue" and when we left we heard "Black and Blue." All evening long it was sandwiched in with something called "Black and Blue."

A few gathered there were John Parsons, Bob Woodruff, Bob Hughes, Neil Spicer, Jean Brown, Barb Kennedy, Sis Hughes, Arlyne Brown, Betty Dubois, Johnny Martin, Mary Stringer, Steve Burrows, Ginnie Davis, Sue Pomeroy, Phil Savage, Eugene Husse, and Hal Harold Noyes.

Sunday afternoon inaugurated the start of a series of club games. Some of those on the victorious team were George York, Hank Price, Jim Anderson, Bob Saffell and George Landino.

A few from D. J. F. R. were Bevon Allen, Bud Boynton, George Landino, Pete Little and Norm Goddard.

Cheering on their respective favorites were Dick Sieberg, Bob Hardy, Charley Baker, Phil Savage, Ruth Adair, Marian Craig, Margi Harne, Don Plant, Bill Dornay and Margie Wenzell.

Annie doesn't know, but she's always heard Sunday was a day of rest; however, mothers can always find something for their darlings to do. Also why must there always be so much homework to be done the last minute Sunday night? Oh! well, such is life—but why?

Annie.
