

Baldwin PTA Sets First Meeting for Thursday, Oct. 30

By Jim Milbrandt
With Mrs. William Milligan speaking on the subject "Adult Education in Birmingham," the Baldwin PTA will hold its first meeting Oct. 30 at 2:30 in room 101 at Baldwin.

A business meeting will be a part of the program and the daughters of PTA mothers will join them at 3:30 for a tea which will be held after the meeting. Mrs. Milligan has had opportunity to study this phase of Birmingham life in her capacity as president of the American Association of University Women last year and as a member of the Birmingham Community Council which studied adult education as a special project. Mrs. Milligan will be introduced by Mrs. C. B. Kass, chairman of adult education on the Baldwin PTA board.

Officers of Baldwin PTA for the year are: Mrs. Hugh McLessee, president; Mrs. Isaac Robertson, mother vice-president; Mr. A. S. McCall, father vice-president; J. Jay Myers, teacher vice-president; Mrs. Frank Hardy, secretary; Mrs. H. P. Halladay, treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert Saffell, historian.

Legion Women Will Present Projector to Veterans Friday

A ceiling projector and 15 filmed books will be presented to the Oakland County Tuberculosis hospital tomorrow evening by the American Legion Auxiliary of Birmingham. This projector, which is to be given for the use of hospitalized veterans, will be formally presented by Agnes H. Baynes, rehabilitation chairman for the Auxiliary.

All citizens of Birmingham, who made possible its purchase, are cordially invited to attend the ceremony. The funds for this unit were made possible through their cooperation at the time of the annual Poppy Day. An entertainment will be presented for the patients and guests, when accordion selections will be played by Mrs. Beatie Savory of the Milford Auxiliary, Miss Hope Richardson of Royal Oak will render several vocal selections, and Stewart Capron, vice-commander of the 17th Legion District, of Oxford, will present a program of magic.

Spraying equipment used to apply 2,4-D must be cleaned thoroughly before it is used to apply other types of sprays. Useful plants can be killed or seriously injured by the 2,4-D residue.

A hunting we will go—and when we come back with pheasants, partridge or a grouse buck, we go straight to F. J. Market and Lockers, Inc., to have our game dressed and frozen, ready for storage in our locker or freezer. This not only takes care of all the work, but it will be wonderful to have birds and venison available for holiday entertaining. And the cost is low—only $8 to skin, clean, cut up, and sharp freeze a buck. And remember that F. J. carries a complete line of quality groceries and meats—just call 2468 for prompt delivery service.

Actually there is something new under the sun: I found it this week at the Colonial Shop, Adams Rd., Woodman Ave. The great discovery I want to tell you about is the Tru-last Proportioned Health Sox for children, that are actually made to give plenty of room for growing toes. These sox are designed like shoes—you might say they have square toes, but when you see them you'll get the idea. They come in ankle or knee length styles, in all colors and stripes, from size 4 1/2 up. And here's a NOOZE: Hand made fancy dresses and garterdresses from the Philippines are back.

You'd never dream how much actual talent there is around our Village until you stop at The Old Lantern Shop, 151 S. Woodward. This is the store, you know, that sells the work of local craftsmen, and right now they have some lovely authentic reproductions of New England decorative cabinet work. There are pipe racks, spoon racks, planters, and candle holders in pine or walnut, that all have a distinct New England flavor. Made from old wood, they are rubbed to a satin finish. And don't forget, the shop has a lounge where you can freshen up and relax after shopping.

Last Sunday was our nineteenth anniversary, and it was I who forgot it until the Man in My Life smiled at me and said, "Put on your best bib and tucker, Madam. We're dining out tonight!" and where else but at Mayans, Woodward at Oak. M-m-m! The food was delicious, the service was delightful, the surprise was delightful! But don't wait for such a special occasion. Mayans is open for luncheon and dinner every day except Monday and is a grand place to do your entertaining. Call 4910 and Mrs. Hale will help you plan the menu for your next party.

It's fireplace time at Brass Unlimited. It won't be long now before you'll want a roaring fire in the evening, so this is the time to put your fireplace in order with a complete new set of fixtures. Brass Unlimited, Woodward Ave. at the Fourteen Mile Rd., has one of the largest and finest stocks of fixtures in the middle west, and remember, this unusual store has only solid brass fixtures—the type that keep their beautiful finish for years. Make Brass Unlimited your fireplace headquarters. They're open every ray except Monday from noon to 7.

No matter how you feel about the President's meatless days, it is grand to know where you can get a fine selection of seafood to vary your day to day menu. The Frost Market at 339 E. Maple has an excellent assortment of fish and seafood that has been caught in the briny deep, sharp frozen, and shipped here, ready for your skillet. There's economy too, in buying solid haddock and halibut only 62¢ a lb.; trout from Lake Superior at 59¢; and scallops that are all meat at 95¢. Be sure to stop at the Frost Market this week.

If you're planning on a new bike for one of your youngsters for Christmas, the way to avoid disappointment is to buy one soon at Baugh's, Bike Shop, 339 S. Woodward. Baugh's have a splendid stock of bicycles right now in all the better makes (and tricycles too), but they're pretty sure to be gone long before Christmas. A small deposit will hold any bike for you till it's time for Santa himself to deliver it. And don't forget, that bike, and accessories, like horns, lights, and baskets, make perfectly wonderful gifts.

Electric controls now used in institutional or commercial laundries eliminate as many as 63 hand operations.

The daily routes of street cars, trackless trolleys and buses take about the equivalent of 371 trips around the world.
