The Golden Text (John 3:25) is: "The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear shall live."
Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Isaiah 42:1): "I will give in the Lord for ever for in the Lord JHWH."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "Life is the origin and substance of matter, and is attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death."

Barnum PTA Hears Principal, Staff Tell About School

At a meeting of the Barnum School P. T. A., held last Thursday evening, Glenn M. Emery, president, introduced the following new officers: Cassius L. Miller, father vice-president, Frank Rising, treasurer, Edward McComb, recreation chairman, M. D. McMichael, historian.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. Robinson, school principal, who spoke on the topic, "Know Your School."

The philosophy of Barnum Junior High, according to Robinson, is to give the student an opportunity to explore many areas before beginning specific study in the 9th grade. He spoke of the importance of cooperation between teachers, parents, and students, through the critical adolescent age.

Parents should cooperate. He gave a complete physical set-up of the school (enrollment including kindergarten, first and second grades being 725) and spoke of the ideal size of classes, averaging 30 students each.

He invited parents to visit the school's lunchroom, the students' home-room teacher, as well as boys' and girls' counselors. He touched on the subject of report cards, extra-curricular activities, school buses, lost articles and school parties.

His comments to parents to cooperate by appraising work brought home by student, carefully reading reports, notices, being open-minded and contacting school office on reports of irregularities, and retaining from criticizing school in the child's presence.

Maicolm Tindall, boys' counselor, spoke briefly on attendance rules, as well as ability, academic and maturity tests.

Miss Muriel Bruce, girls' counselor, explained the philosophy of present day education and demonstrated the all-school program with charts covering behavior patterns, adjustments, occupational opportunities and planning for the future.

Woman Sculptor Next on Town Hall

Suzanne Silvercruys, internationally known Belgian sculptor, will model a member of the Detroit Town Hall audience during her lecture at the Fisher Art Center and located at the Mattie on Wednesday morning, October 29, at eleven o'clock.

The charming artist and cosmopolitan is the daughter of the late President of the Supreme Court of Belgium and Baroness Silvercruys, but she has been an American citizen for two decades. Her portrait busts of American celebrities are in the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The noted sculptor shares with her audience her philosophy of life, knowledge of world affairs, and tells intimate anecdotes of famous people while her nimble fingers work with clay.

Cub Pack Entertains Dads at Dinner; to Have Fall Ceremony

Members of Cub Pack B-2 entertained their dads at a father and son dinner at the Community House Friday evening. James Van Hook, their scoutmaster, entertained with two motion pictures, "Touchdown Parade of 1947" and a cartoon, "Woodpecker." Cub Den 11 presented a short comedy skit and a square dance. The dinner was 100 percent.

Mrs. Brooks Marshall, Pack Mother of B-2, stated that the first pack meeting of the season would be held in the Quaker school gym tomorrow evening at 7:30. The Bobcat cartoon, an impressive Indian regalia of welcome, will be the main feature of the program.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in larger cities, and from National Housing Agency.

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skip or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroad has had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 87% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroad. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile only 15%
