Marching Formations Planned by Band for Tomorrow's Game

Precision marching will be the theme of the Birmingham marching band when it presents new and exciting formations at the Ferndale game tomorrow night.

In tribute to the visiting team, the band will form an "L" for Lincoln High, accompanied by the Ferndale school song. The band will then cross the field forming the traditional "B" for Birmingham.

Dr. Fritz Redl Addressed PTA Group Wednesday

Speaking before nearly 200 members of the Quarton PTA last week, Dr. Fritz Redl, of Wayne University, said that in the early days of psychology, the analysts managed to make parents feel that most children were great problems.

"This is not true," he said. "In most cases it takes eight years of consistent adult mis-guidance and a lot of bad luck to produce a misfit." He added, "To be normal, handle adult problems first and then the children's."

Bearing this out, he listed several fears which adults carry through life that reflect greatly on the children around them. Dr. Redl explained to the parents the best way to handle the fears, which he listed as follows:

"Fear of past mistakes. The only way to handle this is to realize that everyone makes mistakes and to see that they have no bearing on the present.

Fear of the Future

"Fear of self. The way to overcome this is to face things frankly, and stop the childish habit of trying to hide from facts, yourself and life. It cannot be done.

"Fear of the future. This fear has the deepest influence on children. They have no sense of security, and no poise. Restore this to them and let them handle things for themselves, with as little adult interference as possible. Remember that too much severity is as bad as no discipline at all," Redl stated.

The last fear was that which regarded the perfection of one's own children.

"Don't jeopardize the child's individual rights by forcing perfection upon him," Dr. Redl said. "Adjustment to current problems and changes in rules are more essential to children that outmoded customs of the past. The personality and reality of children's lives must be the first consideration."

Present Quarton Staff

Dr. Redl was introduced by Mrs. Winston Kellogg. He has studied in Vienna, under Dr. Eichorn, one of the leaders in the field of early psychology. Along with his duties at Wayne, he is the head of Pioneer House where he is helping to train and readjust a group of maladjusted children so that they may lead normal lives.

Preceding Dr. Redl's speech, which was given at the Community House, Mrs. R. B. K'Burg, president, introduced the new board members and committee chairman. Miss Magdalene Frederick, principal of Quarton school, presented her staff and gave a brief sketch of the background and training of each.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent of schools in Birmingham, spoke briefly of the high standards of the local teachers this year, and said he felt sure of a very successful school term.

Local Donut Shop Reopens Tuesday

After purchasing the interests and equipment of the Cream-O Donut Shop and adding considerable new equipment, Verne E. Pennell reopened the donut and fried cake business at 467 South Woodward on Tuesday.

Raised-glazed donuts and old fashioned fried cakes will be featured along with a coffee bar and soda fountain, according to the new proprietor. The fountain will serve sandwiches and light luncheons and will be open from 7:30 a.m. until midnight, daily. The new business will operate under the name of Pennell Donuts.

Pennell was formerly the sales manager of the Continental Baking Company and assisting him in the operation of the new business will be Freddie Arn, also a former employe of the baking company. Dorothy North will be in charge of the fountain and counter.

Cranbrook Defeated in Initial Little Oak League Contest

Cranbrook School's participation in the Freshman Little Oak League game on Wednesday afternoon drew an interested crowd of spectators to witness a 12-0 defeat at the hands of the Berkley High School in the first League contest.

The next game is scheduled with the Royal Oak High School at Royal Oak on Oct. 7.

Dan Newey and John Harlan played end, Malcolm Myers and Bob Walter tackle, John Harris and Jack Knoblock guard, Norman Bouton center, Dick May quarterback, Jack Manning fullback, and acting captain and halfbacks were Dick Fitzgerald and Doug Roby.

Adams PTA Group Plans First Fall Meeting Monday

Something new and different has been planned for the first Parent-Teacher Association meeting at Adams School next Monday evening, Oct. 13, according to Robert J. Cassidy, program chairman. A large turnout is expected as this is the first meeting of the year and will give the newcomers a preview of the organization's activities.

At this time gold pins will be presented to recent past presidents. Those to be so honored are: Mrs. B. K. Swartz, Mrs. Garland Tait, Mrs. A. K. Toepfer, Mrs. T. Hollister Mabley and Mrs. Harold Chalk.

These plans were announced at the executive board meeting last Monday night. At this time the various officers and committee chairmen made their reports and briefly told of their plans for the year.

Square Dances Planned

Mrs. Mabley, adult education chairman, announced that Mrs. Wasja Enoch's class in body culture and relaxation will start its sixth year on Wednesday evening, Oct. 22. It has been suggested that a volley ball group and a painting class for the children be started, and if there is sufficient interest she will organize any other new classes.

For the past three years the square dances have drawn a large crowd, including many from other school districts. The first of this season's series of five will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening, Oct. 25.

James L. Cox, president of the Adams Association, suggested that all parents read the "Annual Report of the Superintendent of Schools" which may be found at the school or public library. He stated that anyone contemplating a move to Birmingham would be more favorably impressed by it than by any amount of sales talk.
