Mrs. Tabor Hostess To Alpha Phi Group At Her Home Tonight

The Detroit North Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Phi will hold a dessert meeting at the home of Mrs. Lawton C. Tabor at 19829 Devonshire road on Thursday (today), Sept. 11. At this meeting, which will start at 8 o'clock, plans will be made for the work in cardiac clinics. This has been selected by Alpha Phi as its national project.

Throughout the country chapters are cooperating with doctors, clinics, hospitals, and special organizations to work toward the early recognition of cardiac conditions and aid generally in their care, especially among children.

Mrs. Walter L. Fry, Jr., who is the local chairman of the project, said that in Michigan the chapters are working directly with doctors. They are also planning an extensive educational program that the public may be better informed of the symptoms and treatment of the ailment.

A special invitation to attend the meeting is extended by the president, Mrs. Hoyt K. Metzger, to all Alpha Phi who have come into this area recently and are not yet registered with the local group.

Klingler-Day Vows Spoken At Candlelight Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Susan Ann Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus M. Day of Detroit, and Harry J. Klingler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klingler, Sr., of Cranbrook road, was solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles Cadigan at 9:30 o'clock.

The church was lighted by tall white tapers placed in seven-tiered candelabra on the aisles. The chancel was decorated in greens and tall standards of white chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown of antique satin in deep ivory with the full skirt and train gathered into a tiny waistline. Her veil was of illusion with a coronet of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and grape ivy. Her only jewels were a string of pearls.

Mrs. Marcus M. Day, Jr., of Washington, D. C., served her sister-in-law as matron of honor, with Miss Phyllis Ann Klingler.

of the groom, as maid of honor. They wore Renaissance gowns of Madonna blue satin with minute lace bolero jackets. Their bouquets were crescents of American Beauty roses with the ivy cascade.

The bridesmaids, Miss Lucy Bennett of Birmingham; Miss Mary Jo Tait of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Jack W. LeVan of Mt. Pleasant; and Miss Mary Sue Bee of Bloomfield Hills were given the same as the matron and maid of honor. They carried bouquets of Sally roses.

Robert R. Klingler of Birmingham, brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding guests were seated by P. E. Peterson of New Rochelle, N. Y.; Dr. C. H. Clinton Noble of East Hartford, Conn.; Jack W. LeVan of Mt. Pleasant; and Dr. Paul Connolly of Pleasant Ridge.

A reception was held directly after the ceremony at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club. The club rooms were beautifully decorated with greens, baskets of white chrysanthemums and red roses, with low arrangements centering the tables.

Mrs. Day wore a mist grey gown with full sleeves of marquisette, embroidered in pearls. Her hat was of tulle and ostrich tips in a matching grey, and she wore a corsage of cypripedium orchids.

The groom's mother chose a gown of toast crepe and lace, with which she wore a hat of brown velvet and ostrich tips, shading from brown to black. Her corsage was chrysanthemum orchids.

The couple are enjoying a motor trip through the east, for which Mrs. Klingler chose a maroon cashmere broadcloth suit with a matching hat. Her accessories were alligator leather, and her corsage the orchids which centered her bridal bouquet.

They will reside in Bethlehem, Pa. for a year, while Mr. Klingler completes his studies at Lehigh University, after which they will settle in Birmingham.

Pythian Sisters Name Convention Delegates

Richard McConkie Takes Bride in Mt. Vernon Rites

Dr. and Mrs. James Paul McConkie of Larches road went by plane to Mt. Vernon, N. Y., over the weekend to attend the wedding of their son, Richard Paul McConkie, to Christine Josephine Reitano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. E. Reitano.

The double ring ceremony took place in the Community Church at Mt. Vernon on Sunday, with the Rev. Carl S. Weist officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Prentiss lace over satin, made with an old-fashioned bodice and full skirt ending in a long train. Her finger tip veil was officiated. The ceremony was performed before the natural background of a huge, blossom-laden trumpet vine, which was flanked by baskets of white flowers.

The bride was attended by her sister, Eunice Engel as maid of honor. W. E. Cole of Huntington, Ind., brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, the couple left to spend a week at East Tawas, Mich. Cole chose a suit of hunter green with matching hat. She wore a corsage of white and pink orchids. Upon their return the couple will reside on Martin street.

Mrs. Grace Hughes of Bates street and Mrs. Harry Blisset, who were assisted by Mrs. Ralph Correll and the young people of the Presbyterian church, entertained at pre-nuptial events.

trimmed with pearls and was held in place by a Princess coronet. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Barbara Ann McGee, her maid of honor, of Fleetwood, N. Y., wore pastel blue taffeta. Her skirt, too, was made on long, flowing lines. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium, and wore pink lace mitts.

Marilyn Ruth and Barbara Jean McFadden with Mary E. and Margaret Ann Finney, all of Mt. Vernon, were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were the same as the maid of honor but in pastel pink, and they carried the same type bouquets.

The groom named Harry Porter Killer of Birmingham as his best man, while the ushers were Thomas Hubbard, Thomas Cookery, Ray Bell, Donald McConkie, all of Birmingham, Victor Reitano and John McFadden of Mt. Vernon.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Post Lodge in Larchmont, N. Y., for the wedding party and guests.

Mrs. Reitano, the bride's mother, wore pastel blue with silver trim and silver accessories. Mrs. McConkie's gown was of pink lace and she wore pink camellias in her hair.

After a honeymoon through the New England states, and a brief stay at a cottage in northern Michigan, the couple will return to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where they are students at Coe College.

Others who attended the wedding from Birmingham besides the McConkie family and members of the wedding party were Thomas and Robert Roth and William Dauchner.
