

Mrs. Loren Blunt Is Church Group Guest

The first fall meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist church was held Sept. 4 at noon. Following the White Cross work period, a period of meditation was observed, with Mrs. John I. Burket as leader. The luncheon, served at 12:30 was under the direction of the Ruth Daniels circle, with Mrs. M. G. Hillman, Mrs. Frank D. Goldberg, Mrs. O. D. Hillman and Mrs. Allen W. McGirr as hostesses.

Mrs. Loren O. Blunt, guest speaker, outlined the work she is doing in religious education during the lunch hour at Barnum school. This program is sponsored by the Birmingham Council of Church Women of which Mrs. Earl H. Cunningham is president.

Mrs. Blunt said that a steady progress is being made in this line, and that the quality of the work turned in by the students is high.

The president of the Union, Mrs. George A. Jackson, conducted the business meeting. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 2.

Fall Flower Festival To Be Held Saturday

The Fall Flower Festival of the Farmington Garden club will be held Saturday, beginning at 2 p. m., at the Methodist church at Grand River and Warner avenues.

"Special anniversaries" is the theme they have chosen, and exhibits will be built around anniversary arrangements. There will also be junior and artistic arrangement groups annual and perennial flowers and fruits and vegetables.

Autumn Market To Be Held Sept. 20 At Holiday House

Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis is general chairman for the Autumn Market which will be held at Holiday House on Saturday, Sept. 20. Co-chairman for the annual event are Mrs. A. B. Allen and Mrs. John W. Gillette.

The camp, maintained for members of the Girls Friendly Society of the Episcopal church, is located on Middlebelt road just north of West Long Lake road. Each year the camp provides an ideal summer vacation for hundreds of girls from this group and others sponsored by them.

In the past it was patronized mainly by business girls, but the passing years have seen a larger number of younger, school-age girls-enrolled, for which the Birds Nest is maintained. This building, which houses the girls from eight to 12 years, was given to Holiday House by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford.

There is also the Rest Cottage, maintained for older women, those who are ill or just released from hospitals after surgery and are in need of quiet and rest.

It is the proceeds of this Autumn Market which go to keep these cottages in proper repair, and properly staffed.

The youngsters who wish to attend this year's market will find plenty of amusement and entertainment, not the least of which will be the pony rides, which are in charge of Mrs. Washburne Wright. There will also be games and other forms of amusement.

Chairmen for the various booths are: Miss Frances Sibbey, jams, jellies and canned goods; Mrs. Ralph Spindler, delicatessen; Miss Margaret Hendrix, white elephant; Mrs. William E. Rice, tea; Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble, vegetables; Mrs. P. J. Kennedy, flowers; Miss Myrtle Armstrong, country store; Mrs. Kenneth D. McGregor, baked goods; Mrs. Owen A. Luckenbach, children's fun; Miss Lois Fenn, aprons; Mrs. George Clark, handwork; Miss Lois Fenn, pop, hot dogs, ice cream. The St. John's branch will maintain the candy booth.
