ATTENTION OF CHAIRMAN HAROLD L. KNUTSON, HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE
REP. ROBERT L. DOUGHTON, ranking minority member;
REP. BERTRAND W. CARR-SAINT, chairman sub committee on Reciprocal Trade;
REP. GEORGE A. DONDERO.
 "We, the undersigned, wish to convey to you our feelings of urgency and dismay that the prescribed hearings on H. J. Res. 335, pertaining to the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act which expires June 12, 1948, have not yet been announced.
 "Whether this act is good or bad for the country is a question for the citizenry to decide in a democracy, and until these public hearings are held, how can the people be made the answer? We believe such important issues must not be decided in ignorance. The facts cannot be brought out if the hearings are delayed or not held at all. The time is short! We have the feeling that political expediency is dictating your course. This we deplore.
 "Therefore, we, as citizens and voters of the State of Michigan, urgently request that the proper hearings on the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act be held at once. These agreements affect every person in Michigan, as indeed of the United States. We respectfully request that you, as a public servant of the people answer us as soon as possible what you are going to do."

 Methodist Organize First
 The Methodist Church was the first to organize here under the Rev. William Pattee in 1827 and in 1840 the first church was built. The present church building in use by that denomination was constructed in 1872 and it is located on West Maple avenue.
 The Presbyterian Church was organized in 1834 with Elijah S. Fish as the first pastor. The first church building was erected in 1844, a later one in 1860, and the present brick edifice on Woodward avenue in 1918.
 St. James Episcopal Church organized in 1834 and held services in Library Hall until their present church was built 18 months later.
 A Baptist Society was organized in 1833 but disbanded in 1840. The congregation was reassembled in 1870 when their former church on Bates and Willets streets was erected. This has since been replaced by the beautiful new edifice completed in 1929.
Other Denominations, Too
 In 1916 a group of local citizens founded the Christian Science Society of Birmingham and held services in a large remodeled residence at 148 South Woodward avenue. This society was incorporated in 1924 as The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Birmingham, Michigan. A large, beautiful church was completed at Willets and Chester streets in July, 1927.
 A Lutheran congregation was organized in 1924 by their pastor, the Rev. L. A. Schuessler, and a temporary chapel of the Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church was dedicated on the corner of Lincoln and Ann streets in May 1925. In 1932, under the direction of the Rev. Theodore Wigglesworth, Jr., who became the Lutheran pastor in 1931, the congregation erected a lovely brick Colonial edifice on West Maple avenue just inside the city limits.
 The Holy Name Catholic Church was founded in 1921 with Rev. W. W. Ryan as its first clergyman and one year later their chapel on Harmon avenue was dedicated.
 About 28 years ago a Congregational Church was formed, and in 1931 the property was purchased by Embury Church, under the direction of Rev. Lee H. Hagle. Until 1946 this church was served by pastors who were also serving in other churches. At that time, Rev. Jesse D. Epps came to the church as its first full-time pastor. Since his coming here the church has purchased a parsonage on Bird street, and the block on 14 Mile road from Pennistone to Croft roads, which will be the site of the new church.

 Other denominations and faiths have flourished here from time to time without establishing themselves in a permanent building.
