Birmingham Girls Attend YW Camp

The following Birmingham girls are now at the YWCA's Camp Cavell on Lake Huron for the final period of the camp's 28th season which ends August 28. They are Pat Babcock, 315 Fairfax; Carol Cobb, 315 Fairfax; Jane Kennedy, 310 Fairfax; Ellen Richards, 7455 Lahase; Nan Gordon, East Long Lake road; and Barbara Haworth, 24785 Riverwood.

Miss Loretta G. Sanders YWCA board member who is chairman of the Camp Cavell committee, stated that the camp has been filled to capacity for each of the four two-week periods this summer. Enrollment is limited to 150 girls between 10 and 17 years of age.

Choice of Sports

Campers have their choice of swimming, tennis, badminton, fencing, archery and riding, along with a variety of crafts, music, and dramatics. Those who complete the necessary training in camp craft have the thrill of going with a counselor on an overnight hike to the "pioneer unit" where they sleep under the stars and cook their own meals.

"Camp Cavell puts into concentrated form the YWCA's philosophy of the importance of individual growth," Miss Sanders said. "In every experience at camp, staff members try to help girls discover and strengthen their own leadership ability and develop into real citizens of a democracy."

The YWCA is a Red Feather Agency of the Detroit Community Chest.

With Eighth Army

Miss Janice Lucille Stock, 887 Smith, is now serving as a clerk typist with the Acorn Military Government Team, located on Northern Honahu Island, Miss Stock has been in Japan ever since July 14, 1947.

GRAYLING—A "new look" has arrived at 76,000-acre Camp Graying Training Center of the Michigan National Guard.

Approximately 2,500 teen-age youths, most of them just out of high school, are getting their first experience in military training here.

When Congress resorted to compulsory military training (Selective Service) as the only effective way of manning the army and navy, the National Guard was given a preferred status. Youth who enlisted in State Troops were exempted from the draft.

Like having a gold rush on its hands, the Michigan National Guard recruited 2,500 teen-agers in 30 days. Total enrollment swelled to 4,300, an all-time record. The troops arrived at Lake Margrethe last week in more than 1,000 motor vehicles and 200 railroad cars. They were reviewed last Saturday (Aug. 14) by Governor Kim Sigler and Major General Ralph A. Loveland and this Saturday (Aug. 21) following a week of overnight bivouacs and field exercises, the troops will depart for home.

The "new look" at Camp Graying is as fresh as today's newspaper headlines.

Youth is getting its first peacetime military training as part of national security. The atmosphere is hardly that of a holiday although the traditional banter and horseplay of army life is as noticeable as ever. The Berlin crisis and other world events have cast a shadow. War is still a serious business.

Military discipline is being tightened this year. And yet, according to top command, more emphasis is being put upon recreation than ever before. Softball games are held daily. Free motion pictures, latest from Hollywood, are offered each evening. The 6th Infantry Division Band is kept busy playing for regimental reviews and special concerts. Church

The SCORE PAD

By Jim Gray

(Name and number at the bridge table. Other jobs.)

The reports are all in now. Our legmen have finally returned from the national championship bridge matches which were held in Chicago.

For your information, readers, I intended to devote this week's column to a comprehensive summary of the results. But at the last minute I asked myself, "Do my patient and long-suffering readers really care whether Henry Goetzke of East Chop, Mass., won or not? Do I care? Does Henry care? Does East Chop? Does West Chop?" The answer was obvious.

Perhaps the highlight of the tournament was the following incident which occurred toward the end of the invitation matches. Senator Claghorn had the deep south seat, and his partner was of course Mr. Addison Sims of Seattle. Seeing them were Satchel and Mrs. Page. The deal:

NORTH (Skip it)
WEST (Can't make it out)
EAST (Who dealt this mess?)
SOUTH (No fair peeking)

The auction: South picked up his hand and stared in consternation. He held: Hearts, the queen (with trumps); North Carolina, Queen. O. D. P. Boone was sold to American.)

Satchel was in rare form. Claghorn medium rare. A kibitzer (E. V. Darling), it is believed whispered in Satchel's "Outeute sm." He was ejected by the judge. Satchel wound up and laid out down the middle. Sims retreated to a neutral corner.

Dummy went down and Mrs. P. looked her disgust. She put up an ace. Claghorn went into a trance with one of the Guru letters. Grouchy said "No." The trick was tossed into the wastebasket.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

For General Primary Election To Be Held Tuesday, September 14, 1948
