Peabody Brothers Opening New Super Market Here Today

Bob and Jim Peabody are opening their new super market today at the corner of Hunter boulevard and Maple avenue. The store has been closed for the past several months while the business was re-organized and the interior of the building rotten reddy.

Previously they had sold only the fruits and vegetables grown on their more than 200 acres of farm and orchard. With the opening of their new market they have added a complete line of groceries and meats.

The entire building has been re-decorated. The outside has been painted and made more attractive. All inside fixtures are white; with the walls of wood paneling.

Two large refrigerators have been installed to handle perishable goods. Run on a self-service plan, the store shelves have been set, to give the shopper full access to all stock with ease and convenience. The produce, still a product of their own farms, will be kept in special display bins, also arranged to provide the greatest convenience for the shopper.

SOCIETY NEWS must be in the Eccentric editorial office by five o'clock every Tuesday afternoon. Deadline for CLUB NEWS remains at noon Mondays.

Why Should The Same Foods Cost You More One Day Than Another?

Are identical items of food worth more early in the week than they are later on? Or are Saturday's shoppers entitled to better buys than Monday's? Of course not! Why, therefore, should prices be different on different days? The answer is—they SHOULDNT. And at A&P, they're NOT. At A&P, you'll never find "See-saw" prices that are up one day and down another. Because we believe in giving the most people the most for their money in keeping all prices at the same low level all week long. And we do it by cutting operating expenses and profits to the bone and sharing the savings with our customers every day in the week... everywhere in the store. Stop in at A&P and see!
