Prizes went to Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor and Mrs. Glenn Wooster. The committee in charge of the dinner and entertainment were Glenn Wooster, Mrs. Gladys Musselman, Mrs. Dell Schlade-man, and Miss Earls Smith.

Each of the grade rooms in the school is very attractively decorated for Christmas and for the parties which were held on Dec. 22. Mrs. Musselman has decorated the Kindergarten room with a mural of "Up on the House-top." Mrs. Thelma Gilbert has a bulletin board made by the children. If has Santa Claus and his reindeer on a background of blue with silver stars. Miss Gladys Mankinen's first grade room has a border of candles and pine cones, and a border of "Wise Men." Mrs. Helen Ruthing has attractively decorated her room with snow men's heads and Santa Claus bringing gifts in a balloon. The Christmas tree and murals—ones of Santa and his reindeer and the other of the Christmas Story. She also has a picture story of "The Little Engine that Could" which is Santa's Freedom Train. Mrs. Pauline second and third grade room has a border of Christmas toys, snowmen, and trees.

In Mrs. Doris Johnson's third grade room, one may find the story of "The Littlest Angel," Santas with cotton beards, pointsettias and Christmas wreaths in the windows. Christmas cards are the order of the day in Mrs. Myrtle Hensolo's fourth grade room. On each bulletin board there are pictures depicting Christmas songs. Mrs. Lovaino Burke has a Christmas card mural with a three dimensional snow man in a winter scene which was made by the fifth grade children. In the sixth grade which is in charge of Mrs. Marie Gibbs, there is a Christmas tree bulletin board, Christmas candles and Santas. Miss Eupenia Keeler's fifth and sixth grade is decorated with an old-fashioned Christmas scene, snow men posters and candy canes.

Noon Hour Programs Planned At Baldwin

By Jerry Neumann
For these cold wintry days ahead, Baldwin Student Congress is sponsoring noon hour entertainment at the high school, under supervision of Bob Ervin.
For the past few years the Congress has presented a program of noon hour entertainment for the months when students stay in-school.
The main feature is a ping pong tournament which will start soon after Christmas vacation.
Next on the list of entertainment comes moving pictures which range from slapstick comedies to data on the latest in scientific discoveries by the day. The juke box placed in Room 101 is becoming more popular by the day.

A Cappella Choir Ends Pre-Holiday Affairs

The Baldwin a cappella choir closed its pre-holiday appearance by singing before several civic clubs this week.
Last Monday the choir sang at the Rotary Clubs eleventh annual Christmas program and the same evening appeared before H-12 club. The Lions club heard the choir Wednesday noon.

Anne Morrow was soloist in "The Lullaby of Jesus."
