Summers' Good Food

Some morning when you come for a steaming hot cup of coffee and see "CLOSED"—just know that I have flown down to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to get it for you.

Or perhaps I have shipped down to Managua, Nicaragua, to get bananas for the luscious cake you like for luncheon or dinner!

This could happen, BUT WE ARE NOT CLOSED because WORLD TRADE COMES TO BIRMINGHAM EVERY DAY!

We Are Open from 7:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. And I Am Here as Usual

John Summers, Owner

Orchids to Birmingham
For Its World Trade Campaign

Many an eager collector has climbed precipices, waded through malarial swamps, endured all dangers of tropical forests and braved the head-hunters of Borneo for these treasured flowers.

BUT WORLD TRADE IS WORTH THE EFFORT

PART OF EVERY DOLLAR YOU GET COMES FROM WORLD TRADE.

HOWARD BELL FLORIST

925 South Woodward Birmingham 882

Dear Readers:

Time makes many changes, some touching our daily lives, and that is what has happened to me. I am leaving the society desk, after six months there, and moving on into advertising and news.

Before I leave, however, I would like to thank each and every one of you who has cooperated so splendidly with me during the past months. You have done a great deal to make my work easier and happier, and I do thank you. Too, I hope I may continue to serve you in my new capacity.

Now, in leaving that particular job, I would like to introduce my successor—Miss Marjorie Daw Moreland, who will handle society items in the future.

Sincerely,
Alice E. Morgan

Nuptial Vows Are Spoken at Colorful Ceremony Jan. 17

Before an altar decorated with gladioli and white chrysanthemums against a background of eibodium ferns flanked by candelabra of lighted tapers, Marcia Jane Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. West E. Ray, spoke her marriage vows Saturday at 4 p.m. to Francis A. Bade, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Bade of Louisville, Ky. Rev. W. Glen Harris read the service.

Miss Ray was attired in a gown of white satin fashioned with a light fitting bodice ending in a flaring peplum; the sweetheart neckline as well as the peplum were embroidered in tiny seed pearls.

The skirt was full, with a medium length train and her veil of illusion tulle was fastened to a Dutch shaped cap embroidered with pearls. She carried a spray of gardenias and stephanotis.

Dorothy Ann Ray as her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids Betty Ruth Middleton of Evanston, Ill., and Phyllis Chapel, wore similar gowns of rusty rose colored velvet fashioned with a light fitting bodice and an off shoulder neckline with a wide bertha of velvet. The hats of the same material were trimmed with three matching bows at the side and they carried bouquets of Joanna Hill roses.

John Bade of Louisville acted as his brother's best man and the ushers included Joseph Sweetz of Louisville, Robert Allen, John Clippert and Robert Speed.

Miss Ray was attired in champagne colored crepe with a hat of matching material and her corsage was of green and brown orchids.

Mrs. Bade wore a gown of royal blue crepe with a matching hat of feathers and her flowers were white shattered carnations.

Mrs. Bade's going away costume was a slate colored gabardine dress over which she wore a grey fur trimmed coat, brown hat and brown accessories.

Out-of-town guests included the grandmother of the bridegroom Mrs. C. G. Bade, and an aunt, Miss Betty Bade both of Louisville, Ky. Following a honeymoon in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Bade will make their home in Louisville.

Plug-in fluorescent lamps have been developed for special lighting assignments in the kitchen, bathroom, playroom or laundry.

Returned Veteran Is MOMS Club Speaker; Discusses Germany

Richard Dasechner, who recently received his discharge from the U. S. Army and returned from Germany, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the MOMS Club last Thursday evening. He showed numerous pictures which he had taken in Germany, Belgium and France, and spoke of the work being done by the Army of Occupation.

"The Germans," he said, "are naturally resentful of the men who have entered their country, and designate the way they are to run it. They resent, too, the youthfulness of the American troops, feeling that these men are not old enough and serious enough to be capable of handling the job which has been assigned them."

"The people, for the most part, are friendly toward us, and this is especially true of those who are employed by the Army or other Americans. What resentment is shown does not come from them, because they value the jobs they have."

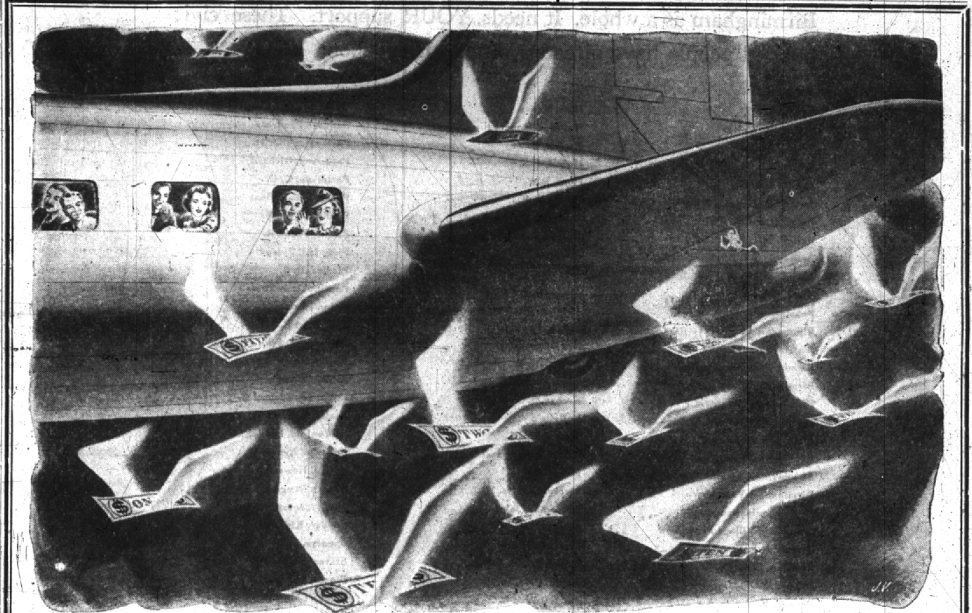

Following his talk, a question and answer period was held, at which time he described conditions there, saying they were very poor, and that the people were in actual want for proper food and clothing.

Members of the Club are continuing their drive for radios for the men in the veterans' hospitals which they service. Anyone having a radio they would care to donate are asked to contact Mrs. Edwin S. Snyder, 768 Oakland street.

Your Money will fly back, too!

When you spend a dollar for an imported linen handkerchief the money goes to China, but it doesn't stay there. The money that is spent abroad will fly back to you quicker than you realize.

Here is the Reason: Other countries all over the world desperately need U. S. goods—the products that you produce in your factory or on your farm. When you spend money abroad . . . either for materials you need from other countries or for travel . . . those other countries use the money immediately to buy . . . and pay for . . . the things they need from you.

From now on, the U. S. is going to need more of this World Trade than ever before . . . to keep expanded factories and farms busy . . . to guard against another depression and maintain our present high standard of living.

So don't think your money is gone when you spend it overseas. Actually, it's still working for you—harder than ever—to help build lasting prosperity and peace.
