DOES WORLD TRADE AFFECT BIRMINGHAM?

The grown-ups know that the U. S. is the biggest producer of aluminum but did you know that we also import this precious metal from AROUND THE WORLD to satisfy the peace-time demands in this country? Take the NEW ALUMITILE for bathrooms, kitchens, hallways, recreation rooms... this new metallic tile comes very thin, it does not chip, it bends into place, and comes in black, maroon and bright red as well as in all pastel shades!

The boys and girls know that the U. S. is the biggest producer of model airplane kits but did you know that we import the light and beautiful balsam wood to make these kits from Latin America, the rice paper from the Orient and the many colored lacquers from China, Japan and India? We carry all makes of airplane kits and all supplies.

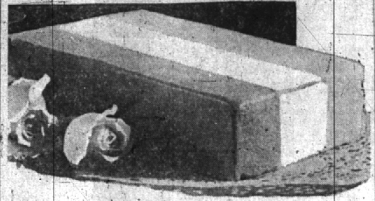

World Trade is Vital to You, the Customers of Birmingham, and to Us, the Merchants of Birmingham. Part of Every Dollar We Get Comes From World Trade.

Class in Rhythmic Relaxation to Open
 Mrs. Wasja Etloch's class in relaxation rhythmic, under the sponsorship of the Adams School Adult Education Program, is again open to the public for enrollment as the second series of ten lessons is now starting. Mrs. Etloch, 1647 Yorkshire, is in charge of the group for registration and further information. The plan for each lesson is to co-ordinate certain muscles with inner functions such as the res-

HISTORICAL DISH for the KINGS

Poor Nero—with all of his power and wealth, ate snow, honey and fruit pulp. It was Marco Polo, returned from the court of Kubla Khan, who introduced fruit ices made with milk. Catherine de' Medici took the dish to France. Charles I of England tried to keep his cooks formulae for Ice Cream a royal secret, but less than 100 years later it had crossed the ocean and showed up on the table of Governor Bladen of Maryland.

General George Washington spent $200 in one summer for Ice Cream that would not compare to this present day dish.

So, in the past as in the present, we owe our favorite dessert to International Trade—for remember, Coffee, Chocolate, and Vanilla, to say nothing of the Crunchy Nut Meats, come from abroad.

But—today's dish costs far less and is far better than Nero's if it's

Adams PTA Frolic Is to Be Held at School February 6

The Adams Family Fun Frolic will be held Friday, Feb. 6, from 8:30 to 9:30 in the school. This annual event, the PTA's only money-raising venture, Mrs. E. K. Leavenworth, head of the ways and means committee, is the general chairman, assisted by the home room mothers, whose chairman is Mrs. W. C. Layman. After the closing of school there will be games, movies, ice cream, candy, hot dogs, balloons and soft drinks for the children. For the parents the bake sale, white elephant table, book table, and the canned goods department will be of special interest.

Mrs. Robert McKee and Mrs. Robert Pizer are in charge of fish ponds and Mrs. Donald Bell, Mrs. Vera Whitington, Mrs. Ward Polson and Mrs. Mark Duffield will take charge of the white elephant sale. Games will be under the supervision of Mrs. Matthew Whittlesey and Mrs. Wm. DeBeaulieu. Candy will be sold by Mrs. Paul Baker and Mrs. Clinton Fletcher. The hot dogs by Mrs. Robert Bandy.

Teachers Are Guests
 The teachers will be guests of the parents at the supper from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. Dessert will be served by Mrs. Malcolm Adam and Mrs. Albert Hill. Coffee and milk will be supplied by Mrs. R. H. Dudley and Mrs. Andrew Klein. The check room will be operated by Mrs. Ross Wagner and Mrs. S. A. Walker.

Puppet Show
 This evening Mrs. Thomas Schooley has invited a group to her home to make things for the handicraft booth. Mrs. Harry Millette, Mrs. Wayne Mortimer and Mrs. Thomas Usher are assisting her.

The Pied Piper Puppets, two and a half foot marionettes, will supply the evening's entertainment with a show called "Fappe and the Circus" with Frazer Pomeroy in charge. All the children and parents of Adams School co-operate to make this event a success. The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts also do their share. Many of the local merchants are also contributing.

Cubs' Paper Drive Nearing Final Date

Pack B-8 at Adams School are busy collecting waste paper as the annual drive is now in full swing. The Den that collects the most paper will receive five tickets to the Shrine circus of the first prize. Second prize will be five tickets to a local movie and a candy box, while third prize will be tickets to a movie.

John Kraft, collection chairman, hopes that the people in the Adams School district will again co-operate and save newspapers, magazines and corrugated board for the Cubs. Last year's collections averaged 500 pounds per boy. Each Den makes its own arrangements for collecting, storing, handling and delivering to the School on Saturday morning, Jan. 31. There will be a committee of fathers there to check the weight and record. The prize winners will be announced at noon.

Music Group Meets

Moment Musicals met Jan. 13 at the home of Joanne Pedder of Beverly Road.

Selections were given by new members including Joanne Pedder, Carol Black, Peggy Ann Rice, David Morgan, Jane Kohl, Jane Kates and Ann Averill. Following the entertainment refreshments were served.

World Trade

You can't have a beautiful home without WORLD TRADE. It's a new idea, as old as the tradition of neighbor helping neighbor. From our foreign neighbors we import antique English silver, Dresden pieces, Bavarian china... or we enrich your American home with modern treasures from China, France and Italy.

AND PART OF EVERY DOLLAR YOU GET COMES FROM WORLD TRADE.

Part of Every Dollar You Get Comes From World Trade!

If you think we're talking about somebody else, we're not. We're talking about you. Part of every dollar you get comes from World Trade. Let's take a simple example. For instance, a guy named Joe, who works in a lunch wagon in Twin Falls, Idaho. Joe makes some of his money selling hot coffee on cold days. The coffee came from Brazil. Brazil earned some extra money by selling it to the U. S. Then what happened? The people in Brazil wanted to buy an electric generator. The people in America who make generators, or mine copper, or build cranes, or drive trucks have more business, steadier work than they would have without this foreign business. With that money they can buy more of the things you make or sell. So you make more money. When we look at it in terms of what World Trade does for us, we think World Trade is a pretty good idea. We should have more of it. Let's go after World Trade now.

WORLD TRADE HAS RAISED OUR STANDARD OF LIVING

Your health and comfort standards are due, in large measure, to imports from overseas. The Nickel in the Plumbing comes from Canada, the glass on tiling includes rare earths from Australia and other countries.

The Pressed Steel used in Heger's could not be produced without manganese, chromium, tungsten, vanadium and other alloys from foreign countries!

At Our Prescription Department

UNITED NATIONS MEET WHEN WE MIX PRESCRIPTIONS

The Drugs that We Use to Make Up Your Prescriptions Come from 102 Different Countries. Many of Your Prescriptions Couldn't Be Filled Without These Products From Other Countries.

We spend a share of our money right here in our neighborhood... for shoes and shirts and a movie now and then. That helps make jobs here. But, another share goes to the drug manufacturers in Detroit and Chicago and St. Louis. They pay their workers and then send a slice on to India, China, Italy and other countries to pay for the materials sent them.

This puts money in the hands of foreign workers and farmers. It permits them to buy... and pay for... the things they need from us... machines and foods and radios and cars.

We recognize the value of this two-way trading. From our side of the counter, it's easy to see that the more we buy from other countries the more they can buy from us.

The more they buy, the more profits we'll make and the more jobs we'll have.

Another thing that's mighty important now while we're trying to win the peace... When you do business with folks, you can't afford to get mad at them... and they can't afford to be bad friends with you. Yes, United Nations meet every time we mix a prescription.
