

Franklin Girl is Married to Ralph Bushey of Milford

Marlene R. Riese and Ralph L. Bushey, Jr., repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. Theodore Wuggasser Saturday afternoon in the Redeemer Lutheran Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Riese of Old Colony road, Franklin Hills, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bushey of Milford, Mich.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was gowned in marquisette figured with orchids and lilies of the valley. The dress was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt that was edged with a ruffe and swept into a train. A crown of orange blossoms held her fingertip, tulle veil. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley on a prayer book.

Renee Rakoczy, in a gown identical to the bride's, and Dale Laramie led the procession down the aisle as a miniature bride and groom.

As maid of honor, Miss Emily Krueger of Milford wore a blue marquisette gown and a matching garden hat. Her flowers were delphinium and daisies in a colonial boucquet. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Glen Grimshaw of Birmingham who wore yellow marquisette, Mrs. Fredrick Cosgro of Ypsilanti in an orchid marquisette and Miss Dorothy Donat of Royal Oak in pink marquisette. They also wore garden hats to match their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of delphinium and daisies.

Roger Van Dyke of Grand Rapids served as best man and seating the guests were William Bromfield of Chicago; Glen Grimshaw of Birmingham and Robert Bushey of Milford.

For her daughter's marriage,

Mrs. Ralph Bushey, Jr. and Renee Rakoczy

Mrs. Riese chose a pink crepe dress and a natural straw hat. Mrs. Bushey selected a grey gown. Both mothers had gamelia corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Riese home. The young couple will make their home in Ann Arbor upon their return from a wedding trip.

Miss Mary M. Drury to Be Married This Saturday Afternoon

Miss Mary Margaret Drury, daughter of Mr. B. E. Drury of Pilgrim road, has completed the final plans for her coming marriage this Saturday to Melvin W. Wood. He is the son of Mr. Alfred E. Wood and the late Mrs. Wood of Underhill, Wisconsin.

The ceremony will take place at St. James' Episcopal Church, 1000 1/2 St. Charles. The Rev. Harold E. Towne will officiate.

The bride-elect has asked Mr. John W. Bolt of Pleasant Ridge to be her matron of honor and Miss Camilla Holden of Farmington to serve as bridesmaid.

Alfred Wood will act as his brother's best man. Burton E. Drury, Jr., and Parker Holden are to seat the guests.

Mrs. Bolt will be hosting at the nuptial dinner this evening and also tonight. Parker Holden will host at the bachelor dinner.

Close Competition Brings About a Tie at Bloomfield Hills

There will probably be some excitement out at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club today when Mrs. M. D. Douglas and Mrs. C. G. Predmore start out on another golf match.

Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Predmore are now tied in the semi-finals of the ladies' spring tournament championship at the club and have already played a total of 36 holes.

Whoever wins this match will play Mrs. H. DeVissor for the tournament championship.
