and that maddening
hunt for glasses

These bands come in a small and a large size to accommodate various size temples. Select the size to suit your glasses.

Slip the temples of your glasses into the hollow tubing rightly.

Draps the band around your neck over the head.
When withdrawing the temples from the tubing always grip the rubber instead of the ribbon. These bands are a blessing to many.

Two Localites Plan to Attend the MSC
Farm Women's Week

Fifteen homemakers from Oakland County will attend the Farm Women's Week at Michigan State College from July 19 to 23. They will join about 1,000 farm women for a week of college life including recreational, educational and inspirational activities. Facilities of the college will be at their disposal and they will live and eat in the college dormitories.

Speakers from over the nation will address the various sessions during the week. The college faculty are offering 21 different classes so that the women may study the subject of their choice for a week.

Social events include an outdoor garden party in the Elizabethan Garden, a style revue and open houses in the various college buildings. Campus tours are also planned.

Those who cannot attend for the week may come up for one day only.

Among those planning to attend are Birmingham residents Mrs. J.
H. Goodwin, 1515 Big Beaver road and Mrs. J. B. Hillmer, 340 Big Beaver road.

The F. W. Sanders Home Is Scene of Garden Ceremony

Last Saturday on the 26th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sanders of Epping lane, their niece and godchild Ann Hartman became the bride of Robert Burns Carter. The Bloomfield Hills gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders was the scene for both the wedding ceremony and the reception.

The bride chose an embroidered organdy gown. Her fingertip veil of illusion, which was held in a cap of rose points lace, had been worn by her maternal grandmother and by her aunt, Mrs. Sanders.

The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Hartman of Detroit. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Carter of Palmer Woods.

Following the ceremony a supper party was held to celebrate the Sanders' anniversary. Out-of-town guests at their home for the week end included Mr. and Mrs.
Frederick Sanders, III, from Port Washington, L. I.

Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Alvin Lambert of Chesterfield road was hostess yesterday to a group of friends at the first of a series of ladies' bridge luncheons which are being held at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis of Shirley drive is chairman of the parquet. One bridge luncheon a month has been scheduled for the summer.

Cranbrook estate.

To Lautomer and Norman Naumoff presented a short one-act play called "Confessions" and Sue Hoffman and Ned Schneider with Jeanette Hejlskov directing, gave a scene from O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness". With Frank Rowland directing, Ann Walrad, John Lutz, Matilyn Scheel, Sheila Mc-Ginnis, Tom Hawley and Alice Sperry presented a farce entitled "Angel Child". Cynthia Craighton, Jean Brown and Charles Rabinow presented a scene from "Wuthering Heights".

Completing the program, the junior students presented "The Fairy and The Dog" with Shirley Schoenfeld and Helen Colwell. It was directed by Alice Shaw.

The program was in charge of Ruth Mills. A similar program will be presented tonight in the Greek Theatre. There is no charge.

Even in New England

LAND of the traditional; land where centenaries are celebrated instead of our middle-western cen-tenaries—that's New England. It is a part of America, too, where the oldest houses and the richest antiques have long been most desired and lived with!

BUT—there's a change coming with steady gradualness; have you perhaps been there and noticed it since the war?
One sees today a striking blend with the modern. In homes and furnishings and shops and art, contemporary design is winning ever-greater appreciation. Even New Englanders, always more leisurely in their adoption of the new, are today sensing the greater enjoyment to be had from well-styled, well-executed modern.

Thus when even in Yankeland it is modern which gets the approving nod it's small wonder LaBelles have brought you, this year, so very many things which are truly and beautifully Modern!
