Wood-Drury Vows Exchanged in Saturday Afternoon Rites

At a four o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Harold E. Towne in St. James Episcopal Church on Saturday, Miss Mary Margaret Drury became the bride of Melvin W. Wood. She is the daughter of Mr. B. E. Drury of Pilgrimage road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Alfred E. Wood and the late Mrs. Wood of Underhill, Wis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chastily and illusion lace gown over ivory satin. The dress was styled with a sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves and a full skirt that swept into a long train. Her illusion full length veil was edged with chastily lace and held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried white orchids fastened with satin streamers to a prayer book.

As matron of honor, Mrs. John W. Bolt of Pleasant Ridge wore a pink organdy dress with a high round neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a tiara of flowers in her hair and her bouquet consisted of blue carnations and ivy.

Miss Camilla Holden of Northville, Mich., served as bridesmaid. Her dress was of blue organdy fashioned along the same lines as Mrs. Bolt's. She also had a tiara of flowers in her hair and carried pink carnations and ivy.

Alfred Wood acted as his brother's best man and seating the guests were Burton E. Drury, Jr., a brother of the bride and Parker Holden of Northville.

Following the ceremony and reception which was held at the Drury home, the young couple left for a trip to Mississippi. Mrs. Wood wore a brown and white

Mrs. Melvin Wood striped cotton dress as her going-away outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home in Chicago.

New Residents Plan August Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hambley and family, former residents of Milwaukee, Wis. have just moved into their new home at 1418 Pierce.

At present they are making plans for the wedding of their daughter Evelyn to Percy "Pat" Werner, Jr., of Quincy, Ill., on Aug. 2. The young couple will make their home in Madison, Wis. this fall, where they are attending the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Werner, a graduate of the university, will study for his master's degree and Miss Hambley will complete a year and a half for her bachelor of arts degree.

The Hambley's have a son, Bill, who is now attending the summer school session at Madison. Another daughter, Eleanor, will finish her senior year of high school here in Birmingham.

Cranbrook Summer Theatre School Selects Two Classics

The Cranbrook Summer Theatre school has selected two classics, "Little Boy Blue" and "Sleeping Beauty" for its seventh annual children's performance. They will be given on Thursday and Friday, July 23 and 30 at 3:00 p.m. in the Greek Theatre.

Wanda Lennox will direct "The Sleeping Beauty" with the assistance of Elizabeth Boyne and Randall Garrison. Mary Quinn, Jean Moore, Ann Walrad and Alice Shaw are to direct "Little Boy Blue." David Locklin and Richard Allen are in charge of building the settings. The entire presentation is under the direction of Mrs. Carl G. Wonnberger.

Two productions are planned for the senior students. One is Sierra's classic "Cradle Song" scheduled for the evenings of Aug. 3 and 4 in the Greek Theatre. This play is under the direction of Maurice Yenn. The other play is Edna Ferber and George Kaufmann's "Stage Door" to be given Aug. 6 and 7 in the evening. In case of rain, the productions will be given indoors in the Cranbrook auditorium.

Presented Eleven Plays The Summer Theatre school, for its third Thursday evening program in the Greek Theatre, presented a program of 11 plays including a cutting from Zoe Aikens' "The Old Maid" Robin Squier, Tim Adams, Ann Walrad and Sue Hoffman were in the cast. Randall Garrison contributed an original adaptation of an Uncle Remus tale and the intermediate school offered a play in the Greek manner entitled "O Bright Flame Lived" with Wanda Lennox and Marion Kirk directing. The junior group presented "Mirror Children" Jo Anne Wonnberger directed.

As part of its weekly Friday morning student program, the Theatre School presented 11 more plays including "Jan's Love Grand", "Wedding March", "Dar-Queen", "Hop Along Money", "The Weather Clerk", "Road to Glory", "A String of Pearls", "Either or Neither", "Deception" and a cutting from "Winter's End". Four of the plays were directed by credit students under the supervision of the school's director, Carl G.

Wonnberger. They were "Jan's Love Grand" directed by Eileen Nelson; "Elizabeth the Queen" directed by Inogene Povrie; "Deception" directed by Tally Card and "Winter's End" directed by Mary Ann Brownlee.

The Thursday evening performance will continue for one more week.

Water Ballet On Friday evening the synchronized swimming team, supervised by Miss Helen Davies, performed an elaborate water ballet in Jonah Pool at Cranbrook. Approximately 350 friends and parents attended. Frank Rowland acted as announcer and Alice Shaw, Elma Nickell, Nancy Alice Wonnberger, Marilyn Mooney, Jane Philipp, Rhoda Smiley, Marilyn Scheel and Ann Averill participated.
