Janet Humphries Wed to Lawrence Spencer Saturday

Rev. J. W. Wright officiated when Janet Humphries and Lawrence Spencer exchanged vows at a double ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church last Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Humphries of Maywood avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper silk gown fashioned with a drop shoulder, fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. Tiers of lace covered the hoop skirt effect. Her finger veil was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried an oriental bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis with a white lace backing.

A sister, Miss Carol Humphries, served as maid of honor in a blue marquisette gown with a hoop skirt, a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations.

Helen Kipp of Garden City, Mich., and Ann Clark of Clawson were the bridesmaids. Miss Kipp wore a yellow marquisette gown and short puffed sleeves. Her bouquet was of blue carnations.

Chloe Spencer, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man and James Stubbfield of Detroit and William Humphries acted as guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Humphries chose a pink marquisette dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. A reception was held on the lawn of the Humphries' home following the ceremony.

For the first step of a trip to Canada, Mrs. Spencer selected an aqua colored suit with a white hat, shoes and handbag.

The young couple will make their home at Walters Lake, Pontiac.

Nancy Carroll and Norman MacKay to Play at Will-O-Way

Will O' Way Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills will present Nancy Carroll and Norman MacKay in "Years Ago" by Ruth Gordon for two weeks beginning June 28. Will O' Way will open the straw hat season with this bright comedy. Nancy Carroll is starred in the mother role.

An added feature this year will be the Will-O-Way apprentice theatre for students anxious to gain experience with a professional summer stock company. Apprentices will learn all phases of the theatre including acting, scenery building, theatre management, make-up, fencing, etc.

Nancy Carroll, the movie beauty, has also had a varied stage career and will be remembered as Roxie Hart in "Chicago," Norman MacKay was recently seen on Broadway as Jud in "Oklahoma," the play which enjoyed a record-breaking run.

Jackson-Clark Nuptials Read at Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Ella D. Clark exchanged vows with Wellington E. Jackson at an evening ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church on Saturday. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark of 14 Mile road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson of Haiti, S. D.

Dr. Glen Harris performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of Easter lilies and white stock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown with a high neckline. The full portion of her skirt extended into a wide train. Her heart shaped head piece trimmed with orange blossoms held her finger veil in place. She carried white brisids and stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Gowans, the maid of honor, was dressed in a blue crepe gown fashioned after the bride's. She carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums and white daisies and wore a matching band of flowers in her hair.

Misses Wilma Ballard and Elizabeth Robs who acted as bridesmaids, wore dresses of rose and gold tulle respectively, cut in a similar style. They carried matching bouquets of snapdragons and daisies.

Elizabeth Clark, sister of the bride, served as flower girl in a blue tulle dress that was trimmed with pink forget-me-nots. Her corsage was a nosegay of white daisies with white streamers.

Vern Jackson was best man and the guests were seated by Gerald Saaranev and Lawrence Hetkalia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark chose an aqua dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Jackson wore a gown of green and white with white accessories. Her flowers were tallman roses.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to northern Michigan they were wearing matching suits of gray gabardine.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson, parents of the groom, Mrs. David Clark, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hauge of S. D. and Miss Elizabeth Davidson, aunt of the bride, from Scotland.

Congratulatory cables were received from relatives of the bride from Scotland, England, Ireland, South Africa and Singapore.

They will make their home in Detroit upon their return.
