Navy Air Show at Grosse Ile Sunday

General Electric cut-away engine for training members of the Organized Reserve at the Grosse Ile station will be on public display. This engine is similar to the type used in the latest Navy fighter aircraft. (U. S. Navy Photo).

Hundreds of pilots and aircrewmen were practicing today for mass air maneuvers which next Sunday will mark the second anniversary of the founding of the Naval Air Reserve, the Navy's part-time air force which equals in numbers and effectiveness the air arm of the regular fleet.

Reservists at air bases throughout the United States will demonstrate how in time of peace they have trained their wartime skill in air combat. Locally, the demonstration will be at the Grosse Ile naval air station, where Birmingham residents are invited to a two-hour air show beginning at 2 p.m.

More than 200 pilots from Michigan and Ohio cities will participate in the Grosse Ile celebration. They will demonstrate carrier takeoffs, blind flying, ground controlled approach landings, and dive bombing tactics.

Ground Displays
The theme of the anniversary, "Battle Stations", will be carried out when 50 pilots are suddenly ordered to "man their planes" to intercept a simulated enemy bombing attack. Altogether, nearly 1,000 reservists will be involved in the demonstration of Naval Air Reserve's preparedness.

Visitors may also view ground displays of Navy combat planes and equipment. Capt. C. S. Cooper, commanding officer, said plans have been made to receive 25,000 visitors.

Following the demonstration at the Navy Base the Grosse Ile flyers will join Air Force, National Guard and Royal Canadian Air Force units in joint maneuvers at the International Air Fair at Wayne County-Major Airport. This air show, beginning at 4 p.m. Sunday, will be the final event of Michigan Aviation week.

What Does An Octagonal Traffic Sign Mean? Motorists Had Better Find Out

Motorists wise should use their eyes.

But not all of them do, the National Safety Council says, and as a result there are a lot of accidents from failure to heed traffic signs and signals.

The Council is making a special effort in June to call the nation's attention to the importance of highway markings with a "Signs of Life" educational program. State and city officials and other interested agencies are cooperating.

Warnings of Dangers
"Signs and signals are among the biggest helps to safe driving," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "They give drivers warning of the dangers that lie ahead. But they are worthless unless they are seen and obeyed. It is only when signs are heeded that they really become 'signs of life'."

The Council said the safe driver will follow these signposts:

1. Give signs, signals and markings the same respect you would a traffic officer. Here's one place you may lose if you cheat.
2. Reduce speed and be on guard when you see a diamond-shaped sign (this shape carries a warning) or a round sign (this signifies a railroad crossing is ahead).
3. Come to a complete stop at an eight-sided or octagonal sign. This shape means only one thing—stop!
4. Know what an oblong sign says. This shape carries regulatory messages such as speed limit.
5. Heed the cross-buck sign at railroad crossings. If there is a flagler on wig-wag, wait until it stops operating before crossing. There may be another train you can't see.
6. Watch for the signs of life even on familiar roads. Three-fourths of the drivers in fatal accidents lived within 25 miles of where the accident took place.

WHEN YOU SHOULD STOP ADVERTISING

Just a few suggestions to the man who feels his business and his name are so well-known he needs no sales help!

- WHEN man becomes a creature of habit so thoroughly he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year . . .
- WHEN younger, fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and taking "your customers" away through advertising . . .
- WHEN population ceases to increase and no new folks want to live and work in our town . . .
- WHEN you have thoroughly convinced everyone who ever has or ever will be in your store that they will now and forever get better buys from you . . .
- WHEN business principles reverse themselves and the non-advertiser does more business than the successful advertising merchant . . .
- WHEN men stop making tremendous strides in business through well-planned newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you can forget the words of wise merchants the world over who attribute their success to wise use of newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you would rather have your own way, even if you fail, than follow advice and perhaps win success . . .
- WHEN you want to be rid of the troubles of waiting on customers and are tired of making money . . .

THE SUREST WAY TO STAY IN BUSINESS . . . PROFITABLY . . . IS TO REGULARLY ADVERTISE IN . . .
