GIRL SCOUTS

Intermediate Girl Scouts! According to the calendar, the first day of summer is officially here and that is a reminder to you that Birmingham's Girl Scout Day Camp will be opening on July 12 at the Springdale Park.

Mrs. Carl Beach, registrar, has room for a few more campers and will be glad to add your names to those of the other girls who are anticipating a happy, creative week at Day Camp. The dates for Brownie Day Camp are July 19-23, and registrations are now closed for that section.

No Summer Doldrums

Just because lots of Girl Scouts go to camp in the summer months does not mean that Clothes for Friendship need be forgotten. Camp offers an excellent opportunity for promoting and interpreting Clothes for Friendship. Don't forget, a million garments for destitute children overseas is the goal for 1948 for Scouts all over the country. Penns picnic cabin at camp could prepare a box of clothing and thus "make warm friends."

We hope you have seen the various magazine pictures, articles and references to Girl Scout Clothes for Friendship project that have been appearing.

On the Book List

"A wish for Tomorrow" is the title of a book of girls written by Jean Dupont Miller. This is a charming and readable story about a girl who attended a Girl Scout international encampment, and although it is fiction, it is based on fact.

The author was a guest at Camp Barrow last summer when the international encampment was held there, and she gathered material for the book on the spot. It makes fast, lively reading and everyone, including adults, will enjoy it.

Bloomfield Hills

The Intermediate Girl Scouts of Bloomfield Hills school have been busy with their camping projects in the past week. Troop 23 composed of nine girls and their leader, Mrs. Frederick Peirce and Mrs. Stewart McLean, had an overnight at the cabin at Springdale Park Friday, June 18.

Troop 34 held a "back-to-nature" camp on the grounds of the H. L. Wolfenden's of Kensington road on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 15 and 16.

The 18 girls and their leaders, Mrs. R. G. Bower, Mrs. Glen Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Luce, and Mrs. Don Sheridan did real pioneer camping, even at dispensing with the use of tents. Five complete meals were cooked outdoors and the only return to civilization made by these intrepid campers was the use of water from the Wolfenden kitchen.

On Tuesday a bike hike to Hilly Acres farm was the activity of the day and Wednesday girls swam at Orchard Lake gave the girls seat to prepare their much anticipated hot hole dinner. The delicious beans were topped off with strawberry shortcake, baked by a reflector oven. Fully fortified by this backyard cookery, the girls finished off the evening with a scavenger hunt.

The MacKays to Celebrate Their 51st Anniversary

June 28 will mark the 51st wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Peter Morrison MacKay, 447 Hamann.

On Sunday, June 27, their children, Mrs. Leland G. Banyan, 687 Oak and John F. MacKay of S. Woodward and Mr. Bunyan and Mrs. MacKay will hold an open house in their parents' home from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the parlors of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. MacKay will be remembered as pastor of the First Baptist Church for many years. He and his wife came here in 1916 and were largely responsible for the construction of the present church building. Rev. MacKay studied at Kalamazoo College and at the Newton Theological Seminary of Boston.

Mrs. MacKay was active in community projects as well as church work. She produced many programs for the Women's Club and it was largely through her efforts that the first PTG Council was organized here.

In 1922 the MacKays left Birmingham to serve churches in Ohio, but upon Mrs. MacKay's retirement from the active ministry, they returned to settle here.

Juliette Seelye

Miss Juliette Seelye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Seelye of Westwood drive, a graduate of Wooster College in Wooster, Ohio, studied at Ann Arbor in the medical school for the past year. She will return there next September.

Last February, Miss Seelye "adopted" Maria Chranowka, a Polish war victim, through the Foster Parents plan. This is the second child she has taken through this group.

The forest is considered the most effective cover or natural reservoir for impounding water.

Society of Music and Art to Form Organization Here

A local chapter of the National Society of Music and Art will be established here in Birmingham as the result of a recent visit to this community by Gregory I. Blarowski, national president of the organization.

The plans for organizing the Birmingham chapter will be made soon at the home of Mrs. Earl Bartholomew, 2224 Yarrow road, with Mrs. Bartholomew in charge. Officers to be elected will be selected and plans will be made for the launching of a city wide membership campaign. Civic and cultural leaders here are of the opinion that this is a great step forward in the cultural advancement of the city.

One of the chief aims of the society is to bring millions of people into patronage through appreciation programs that are designed to make symphonies, operas, general music, ballet and painting more understandable and familiar.

Will Give Concerts

The society gives recognition to outstanding talent of any chapter by presenting that talent in concert under the auspices of the local chapters in many cities where the talent is heard by the concert-going public. This talent is reviewed by the critics.

Sixty per cent of all membership fees goes into a revolving fund which is to be used as loans, without interest, for needy talent of the chapter. The remaining 40 per cent is used for the expenses and promotional activities of the organization.

The national board of directors of the society is composed of 78 of outstanding symphony conductors, opera directors and teachers of piano, voice and violin. There are more than 300 chapters of the society in 37 states. National headquarters are located in Los Angeles, Calif.

SOCIETY NEWS must be in the Eccentric editorial office by five o'clock every Tuesday afternoon.
