Oakland County RED CROSS NEWS

Marshall Smith, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter American Red Cross, announces that the annual meeting of the chapter will be held June 11 at 6:15 at Birmingham Community House.

Election of officers and township directors will take place and annual reports will be submitted. All members of the local chapter are invited to attend as well as volunteers, township directors and chairmen.

Rev. James Wright of Birmingham will give the address of the evening, and Mrs. Mildred Bennett, who will become executive secretary of the chapter September 1, will be presented.

The summer water safety program of the Oakland County Chapter begins Monday, June 21, according to Mark Smith of Birmingham, water safety chairman. Classes will meet once a week for eight weeks at approximately 20 pools and beaches in the county. June Ann Partridge and Mrs. Anne Foster, Junior Red Cross director will have charge of the program.

Miss Partridge, water safety instructor has previously been connected with the program both as a volunteer and a staff member. She is a physical education student at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Foster, also a water safety instructor, has had several years experience in the Red Cross program. A senior at Senior and Junior Life Savers will assist with the program.

Smith states that participation of all swimmers is approved without cost to the individual. The 1948 program is the tenth year of this Red Cross service which is offered them. Anyone in the county wherever beaches or pools are available.

He said that the program is in line with American National Red Cross emphasis on learn to swim programs as the principal means of reducing the nations drownings. The long range goal of the program is to "waterproof" Oakland County, to make every resident a swimmer, every swimmer a life saver. The individual's knowledge of his own safety in the water is the best guarantee against water accidents.

Adults Must Set Example of Honesty, OSU Speaker Tells Birmingham Teachers

Dr. H. Gordon Hullfish, professor of education at Ohio State University was the guest speaker at the annual Teachers Club dinner held here recently. His topic was "World Crisis".

During the course of his address, Hullfish pointed out that this country was built by peoples from all nations, of all cultures and representing all creeds. Now, we react against certain ones among them. In order to remain as strong as we are and become stronger we must forget prejudices and work together toward a common goal—the welfare of our nation.

"Do you," he asked his audience, "teach the children that the person across the tracks has just as much feeling as he has? Or do you teach the superficiality of what you may believe to be a superior social position? Do you teach that everyone should be respected as an individual and is entitled to his personal religion and beliefs?

"How would you feel if you were tired and hungry, but because you were colored could not possibly enter an eating place? How would you feel if, when traveling, you could not enter a traveling coach?

"How can parents possibly teach honesty to their children when they are constant examples of dishonesty and prejudice? Have you ever given serious thought to what is being done to our children who will eventually grow up and rule our nation?

He emphasized to the teachers that they can teach the child respect, honesty and the courteous common goal—the welfare of our nation.

Must Lack Prejudice

"As teachers and parents it is necessary for us to be lacking in prejudice in order that the children around us absorb only good. They are awake—alert. They know what we are doing, and regardless what we say, all them is the right thing to do, they will follow the pattern and design of living which we follow ourselves.

"Here is a sentence that I hope all of you will learn and incorporate in your thinking and teaching—'Since wars are started in the minds of men, it is in man's mind that peace must be constructed.'

"Now I want you to become acquainted with the 'Three R's', which I believe to be the three fundamentals of good teaching. If we are to survive the present world crisis, and this stone age in which we are now living, it is essential that we teach these 'Three R's'. They are:

"Three R's"

"A—Respect for individuality. We must respect the individual's race, color, religion and certainly respect his personality as a whole unit. Any person is a complete entity and he should have as much consideration as anybody else.

"B—Respect for the cooperative process as the way to answer the human problems. If we expect to receive cooperation, we are then to give cooperation. We cannot hope to develop fear in another nation and not expect to do a little fearing of our own. When the man who sits beside us tries to develop, in our minds, fear of other peoples, we should at once push him down.

"C—Respect for human intelligence, working in a purely human way—the way in which we get the answer to his problems."

PIETY HILL PRESS

We do it ourselves . . .

Most printers handle nothing but the press work requirements on each printing job. They buy their composition outside their plant, then do the press work part only. Afterwards, they send the job out to a bindery for completion.

We set all our own composition. This saves you time and money. Further, we can give you what you want and can control the results for you. And, with our own bindery facilities, we can make deliveries when you want them with at least a day's savings of time.
