Couple United Before Flower Decked Altar

Before an altar banked with anemones and white carnations, Joyce Pearl Caryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil J. Caryl, became the bride of Norman Dale

Mrs. Norman D. Roberts

Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts.

The candlelight service took place Feb. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church with Rev. Arnold Runkel officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin made along princess lines with a yoke of chintilly lace, lap-of-mutton sleeves and a long train.

Her three-quarter length veil was held by a halo embellished with seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book.

Jacqueline Caryl, as her sister's maid of honor, wore ice green tulle. Janet Caryl, another sister, as junior bridesmaid, wore a frock of yellow tulle. Each carried daisies and gardenias.

Harold J. Kelley acted as Mr. Roberts' best man and the ushers included Dick Kadell, Bill Schermerhorn and William Dayner, Jr.

Mr. Caryl chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of navy blue crepe with white accessories and a similar corsage.

Mrs. Roberts wore powder blue crepe with navy blue accessories and a similar corsage.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the church parlors after which Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for a honeymoon. Upon their return they will be at home at the home of Mr. Roberts parents on Smith street.

For her going away costume Mrs. Roberts wore a two-piece tulle suit dress with green accessories, over which she wore a green coat. Her hat was of brown felt.

A new liquid plastic, painted on the backs of rugs, makes them fire-resistant.

If All the Books in the World Vanished---

THE MINUTE HAND OF CIVILIZATION WOULD STOP, AND, IN OUR LIFETIME, MAN'S KNOWLEDGE WOULD REVERT TO THAT OF THE SUNDIAL ERA.

Have You Bought a Book Lately?

THE IDES OF MARCH, Thornton Wilder, $2.75

In these days of dictators, it is particularly interesting to read this fine book and study the masterful way Mr. Wilder has portrayed the personality and philosophy of Caesar, as well as the times in which he lived. Enjoyable reading as well.

EAGLE IN THE SKY, F. Van Wyck Mason, $3.00

Mr. Mason's great story with its early American background will be well enjoyed by all who read.

A LIGHT IN THE WINDOW, Mary Roberts Rinehart, $2.75

A tender sympathetic account of life in our times by an old master of the art of story telling.

THE STEEP PLACES, Norman Angell, $3.00

A thoughtful logical book which should be read by all responsible people who feel concern for the world in which we live.

JIM FARLEY'S STORY? THE ROOSEVELT YEARS, Jim Farley, $3.50

It's an election year. Mr. Farley has much to tell of the years when he was a power in Washington.

WASHINGTON CAVALCADE, Charles Hurd, 4.50

A worthy companion to the Proper Bostonians, and the second in this series on the people who have given flavor to American cities. Entertaining and delightful anecdotes about the people who have helped make Washington the fabulous city it is today.
