BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Hi All. The Scrap Serenade was one of the biggest hits of the year. Everyone enjoyed himself with the rhythmic music of Irving Field and the band decorated by Harry Stringer, Steve Campbell, Carolyn Harig, Bill Curley, Barbara Kennedy, Len Pickering, Ann Mock and Bob Hardy.

Another attraction was the KST souvenir booth. Giving his usual line of chatter was Jim Ebnish who worked in the booth.

Chuck Baker led the people to the Congress booth where Sherrill Williams was the main attraction. Looking proudly at their profiles were Frances Love, Don Runkel, Barbara Wilson, Bill Reid, Cynthia Hadley, Phil Allen, Marlene Barnes, Willet McGortney, Carolyn Metzger, Roy Woodard, Harry Stringer, Steve Campbell, Carolyn Harig, Bill Curley, Barbara Kennedy, Len Pickering, Ann Mock and Bob Hardy.

Nobody wanted to miss having his "fortune" told by Madam Drumm. This booth was sponsored by the assembly club. Crowding around the waiting area were Pat Shiner, Jim Laidig, Nancy Moore, Pete Little, Laura Lou Haymond, Jim Jennings, John Hattigan, Bob Hughes, Sue Hestreit, Jack Pomeroy, Barbara Stephenson, and Don Williams.

Anyone visiting the C.T.A. booth could never forget the Savara Serenade for behind the counter industriously making souvenir paddles with the visitor's name on it. The Tri-A band, Barbara Hughes and Mary Gilchrist.

The Tri-A booth was always humming with the sound of typewriters. It was a first class lecture and a first class party. Everyone likes to have his picture taken. That's exactly what Peg Baldwin, Sis Hanna, Grace Sheldon and Joan Protheroe were doing at the Emerson Booth.

Jerry Yates and Dave Williams worked behind the other congress booth recording votes. The dancers could hardly pass up the senior concession for a cool drink of punch.

After this gala affair most people spent Saturday night and Sunday just resting.

Better get a lot of sleep this week and be all ready for the Tri-A dance this Saturday night. See you then. Annie
