CLUB 1930

By Jean Gibbs

Our Tuesday night dinner was a huge success with about 30 of us attending.

Just to mention a few enjoying the delicious ham and sweet potatoes were Betty Mann, Shirley Coons, Suzie Woodhull, Bob Cavan, John Walrath and Warren North.

There'll be another dinner before we close for a month this summer, so watch for the date to be announced later.

Next Tuesday night, May 25, we're having a special agent, Robert Ryan, of the F.B.I. who will speak on the functions of that organization and who will also show movies.

This will be in the Ranch Room and there is no admission charge.

Mary Ellen Darval, chairman for the June activities committee, hasn't yet picked her assistants.

Wright, associate minister of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham, will be the guest speaker at the third annual banquet honoring Poppleton School graduates on Friday evening, May 21. No Property Damage Here During April, Fire Report Shows

V. W. Griffith, chief of the Birmingham Fire Department reports that for the month of April the department received 38 calls consisting of one for first aid, one false alarm and 36 silent alarms. No property damage was recorded.

During the month 165 inspections were made, with nine being designated for action by the Fire Prevention Bureau.

"April," Griffith said, "is usually a quiet month. As a general rule, our greatest danger that month comes from grass fires. This year, due to the excessive rainfall, this was cut to a minimum. At present the new grass has grown enough that this danger is practically gone.

"We do wish to remind householders, though, that they are breaking city laws when they start grass fires on property not their own, and ask that they check with the department for permission to burn over large areas. This will be given at no cost, and will be governed by the prevailing atmospheric conditions at the time.

Note Sharp Rise in Building Here

An estimated total valuation of $782,975 is represented in the 73 building permits issued here by Scott A. Hersey, building inspector, during April. In addition to this, one permit was renewed and three issued for the moving of buildings.

The new permits include 52 single family dwellings and one seven-family apartment. Total permits for April are nearly three times as many as the corresponding month for 1947, with the valuation increased approximately 600 per cent.

MSD Student Honored at Club Banquet

Mary Vettraino, seventh grade pupil at the Michigan School for the Deaf was honored at a recent banquet given by the Stepping Stone club in Flint. Mary won recognition for her booklet which brought out the theme of the Stepping Stone Club; namely, physical, mental, social, and spiritual development. Mary's book was judged the best of those submitted by the members of 28 clubs in Flint. This is impressive because this is the first year of the Stepping Stones at M.S.D.

Stepping Stone clubs were organized by Mrs. Milton Pollock of Flint several years ago. Each club is composed of 20 members or fewer, and has one or more sponsors to counsel the girls in their activities.
