Mary Jane Bell Wed at Nuptial Mass Saturday

White flowers banked the altar of Gesù Church in Detroit when Miss Mary Jane Bell became the bride of Robert E. LaJoie last Saturday at a nuptial mass ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Hutting.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clifford Bell of Lincoln avenue and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. LaJoie of Wildemere avenue, Detroit.

The bride chose a white satin Joan of Lorraine period gown with a collar embroidered with seed pearls, a long cathedral train and a bouquet gathered by hand. Her long French illusion veil fell in tiers from a cap with a seed pearl design. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Rose Mary LaJoie, who acted as maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Butwick, Miss Mary Taylor, Miss Joyce Clark and Miss Mary Elizabeth Koebel, were dressed in identical gowns of Williamsburg blue faille with a deep bertha collar, large highrims and long white matching streamers. Miss LaJoie carried American beauty roses and the bridesmaid's bouquets were of yellow roses.

Robert C. Fisher of Detroit served as best man. Keith Blake, Donald Clark, John Armstrong and Howard Gilchrist acted as the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bell chose a coral chiffon length gown, a green hat and a spray of green orchids.

Mrs. Robert E. LaJoie

Mrs. LaJoie wore a grey floor length crepe dress with a matching grey hat and a corsage of purple orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Plum Hollow Golf Club.

For the first step of her wedding trip to Chicago, the bride selected a beige gabardine suit with cocoa brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The young couple will make their home on Whitmore road in Detroit.

THE HAPPY HOME!
 To a baby, Home is where his parents are. It is more than the house and the furnishings. It is how his parents feel about each other and how they feel about him. It is being wanted and belonging. It is love, comradeship, sharing, understanding, tolerance, mutual respect. And it is a sense of humor in the face of odds. It starts with two people whose own need for love is satisfied. With continued effort, together, they make the kind of home, adaptable to changing needs, in which a baby will thrive. The Home, not the house, comes first.

GIRL SCOUTS

Calling All Campers
 Mrs. Carl Beach, registrar for Day Camp at Springdale Park, July 13-16 for intermediate Scouts and July 19-23 for Brownies, announces that registrations are being received each day.

Those yellow slips which were mailed to every Brownie and Scout include a registration portion, so tear them off, fill them out and mail to Mrs. Beach if you wish to insure your child on the list of Scouts who will have a wonderful time at Day Camp this summer.

Camp Personnel Trained
 Ten adults who will comprise the Day Camp staff were put through an intensive two-day training course Wednesday and Thursday, May 19 and 20, by Mrs. Frank Hardy, general chairman of Day Camp.

Wednesday's meeting was held at the Community House and proved to be a seminar on successful camping. Mrs. Andrew Watson demonstrated some new ideas in craft work which will be featured this summer, and before the amazed eyes of her class fashioned a satisfactory drinking cup from a tin can with the aid of tin snips, pliers and hammer.

Thursday's session was held at Springdale Park and the group opened activities by identifying growths of poison ivy and properly marking them with small red flags. Knot tying and lashing demonstrations were given by Polly Hanson and Barbara Spangenberg, and these two leaders also taught a number of new songs which will be introduced at camp.

Lunch, such as Scouts and Brownies will prepare for themselves at Day Camp, was cooked over the camp fire. Such intriguing names as "Kebab", "angel on horseback" and "walking stick salad" appeared on the menu, and the leaders voted these two days spent in training for camp time well spent.

Cabin Over-night Held
 It was a busy week-end at the Girl Scout Cabin at Springdale Park when the eleven Scouts of Troop 8 under Leader Donna Kramer and Assistant Leader Mary Le Brasseur took over from last Friday night until Sunday noon.

This ambitious over-night camping project was assisted by mothers who composed the troop committee. They and Phyllis McAn Fleteren, Mrs. L. D. Gillman, and Mrs. Nora Ross.

In addition to preparing all their own meals, which consumed considerable time, these eighth grade Scouts participated in a "Scouts Own" service Sunday morning. This service is an inspirational gathering planned and conducted by Scouts and their leaders and is an important feature of every Girl Scout camp.

Mary Mullin and Sandra Puls were credited with arranging this fine "Scouts Own."

The high bluff on Springdale golf course became Birmingham's Matherly and an "A" hole was organized by Mrs. Van Fleteren to scale its peak.

After this adventure in camping, the Scouts of Troop 8 voted Birmingham Girl Scouts lucky ladies to have the use of such a fine cabin as that cozy rustic lodge tucked back in the woods at Springdale Park.
