BIRMINGHAM VETERANEWS

Compiled from Various State and National Veterans Information Centers

Public Law 429, 80th Congress (H.R. 4141) was signed by the President on March 8, 1948. The law amends sub section 602 (d) (5) of the National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940, as amended, to extend for two years the time within which eligible persons may apply for gratuitous insurance benefits.

Congress amended the National Service Life Insurance Act of October 8, 1940, several times to provide a gratuitous government insurance coverage to certain persons in the armed forces who did not have already in force at least $5000 in government insurance because they (1) were on extended duty at outlying bases and therefore unable to comply with all the requirements of the original act; (2) had failed or neglected to apply for insurance in the expectation of peacetime service only; or (3) due to the sudden outbreak of the war had not sufficient time to apply for such insurance before engaging in combat.

The amount of gratuitous N.S.L.I. thus granted was only enough to make the total coverage (including any war risk insurance, United States government life insurance, and/or N.S.L.I. already in force) equal to $5000. This is known as gratuitous insurance since it was granted without formal application from the serviceman and all premiums are waived while it is in effect.

This insurance applied particularly to servicemen who died in active service in line of duty on or after October 8, 1940, and before April 20, 1942, without having in force $5000 of insurance.

Pulic Law 749, signed October 17, 1942, protected dying cadet or aviation students, Army or Navy, between October 8, 1940 and June 3, 1941, and died as the result of an aviation accident incurred in line of duty while in such active service, to the amount of $10,000.

Gratuitous insurance provides payments to dependents in the order named:

1. To the widow (or widower) of the insured, if living, and while unremarried.

2. If no widow (or widower) entitled, to the child or children of the insured if living, in equal shares.

3. If no widow (or widower) or child entitled, to the dependent mother or father of the insured, if living, in equal shares. The parent or parents must be shown to have been dependent as of date of death of the insured.

Women veterans are eligible for the same medical care as male veterans, Veterans Administration officials in Columbus, Ohio, pointed out.

They are granted out-patient treatment and priority for hospitalization for service-connected disabilities and also may be treated in VA hospitals for non-service-connected ailments, provided a bed is available and they cannot afford to pay for treatment elsewhere. Male veterans are entitled to these same benefits.

In addition, however, female veterans may receive treatment in non-VA hospitals for non-service-connected disabilities which are emergent in nature, providing prior approval is obtained from VA. The only exception is in the case of pregnancy.

The easy reinstatement deadline for G.I. insurance is less than three months away, World War II veterans were advised today by Veterans Administration officials in Columbus, Ohio.

For term insurance which has lapsed more than three months, July 31, 1948, is the final day for veterans to reinstate without a physical examination, providing their health is as good as on the date of lapse. All that is necessary to reinstate this insurance is completion of a reinstatement application and payment of two monthly premiums.

Veterans interested in any of the six permanent plans of G.I. insurance may reinstate by payment of one premium at the term rate and one premium on the converted plan of their choice. Detailed information as to reinstatement and the permanent plans of insurance may be obtained at any VA office.

Our landlord has a very good description of how he feels about the income tax:

"I laugh out of one eye because I earned so much money, and cry out of the other because I have so little left."

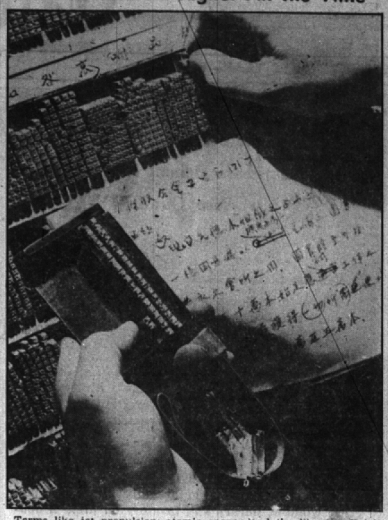
Chinese Gets Tougher All the Time



Terms like jet propulsion, atomic energy and the like in official documents are making things tough for Chinese calligraphers attached to the United Nations. They've had to add 2000 new symbols to the language's normal 8000. Here you see a page being set up in a shop at Lynbrook, N. Y.
