Jack Simonds Named To Coach Basketball Team for Local 'Y'

Walter Morgan, chairman of the Birmingham 'Y' physical committee, announced that Jack Simonds would coach the 'Y' entry in the Metropolitan Detroit 'Y' basketball league for men. Bill Reed will again serve as manager and a captain will be appointed for each team. Practice sessions are being held and play started Dec. 2. Any players interested in trying out for the team are invited to contact Ed Kierber at this office.

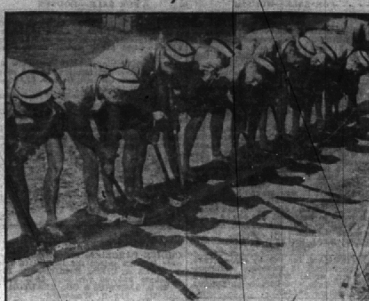

Young C. Smith, chairman of the 'Y' committee of management, disclosed the appointment of William E. Suggden, 248 Smith street, to that group. He has long been interested in work with youth and will be related to the physical activities of the Birmingham branch.

New part-time club leaders working with Gra-Y, Jr., Hi-Y, clubs and physical activities were announced. These include Dorothy and Homer Roberts, Shirley Cloutier, Derek Bolton, Boyd Larsen, Howard Sumers as club leaders; Jack Simonds being related to physical activities; Jim Buttraw for junior boys and Nancy Sweeney as office typist. The 'Y' is in need of interested adult lay people who will devote some of their leisure time for work with group and social engineering clubs.

Have You Met . . .

After eight years absence, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Royal are once more living in Birmingham. Their address is 1678 North Woodward. He is director of research for the Champion Spark Plug Company.

Same Navy—New Sailors

Midshipmen on a practice cruise aboard the battleship Missouri take time out from hoisting the deck to engage in a little naval horseplay. Having scratched "Navy" in the sand and soap solution on the deck, they were enjoying an old sailor chanty until a boom appeared, shortly after this picture was taken, and set them to scrubbing again. Each week two members of the Baldwin Music club attend concerts of the Detroit Symphony tickets for the entire season were given to Keynotes by the Women's Club of Detroit symphony. Last week Elizabeth Henshaw and Gai-ien Grant were the lucky ones who went.

Wajnut Lake was the scene of a gay party last weekend when members of the Retailers' club of Birmingham met at Maxine Snyder's. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Marks chaperoned the group which included Priscilla Duncan, Gordon Merrick, Janet Williams, Alan Garfield, Joan and Jean Jenkins, and Larry Clemens. Lanchon, dancing and games were enjoyed by all.

At a recent meeting of the Scribblers' Club members unanimously voted to send Dick Hindley's contribution to "Life in these United States." This week Scribblers are writing on "Why I like to live in Birmingham" or "America in the year 2000."

The new high school bowling club was formed last week. Already there are 25 members who are striving to promote interest toward a school bowling team for next year. Every Saturday at noon bowlers meet at the alley and bowl three games. The league plans to be sanctioned by the Junior American bowling congress.

C. T. A. Club members had a big day Saturday. In the afternoon they went to the movie, in the evening they had a hayride at Roy's Ranch on Northwestern, and to finish up a swell evening, they had a slumber party at the home of Clarissa Adams. Not having obtained much slumber, however, most of the girls went to bed Sunday afternoon. Sapphire Club is sending CARE packages overseas every month. The girls are also planning to correspond with a club in Germany.

Annual Thanksgiving Party Is Scheduled by Exchange Club

Members of the Exchange Club are planning their annual Thanksgiving dinner party for Wednesday, Nov. 17, at the Devon Club. W. Carleton Scott is chairman of the program arrangements and assisting him are Laurence Hestfelt, Donald Egbert and two new members of the organization, Chief Ralph Moxley and Dr. H. E. Jones.
