Pennsylvania Teams Downed By Cranes As Season's End Nears

The Cranbrook School Varsity team won from Shady Side Academy at Pittsburgh on Saturday by a 7-6 score.

In the third quarter, Shady Side scored on a 6-yard line plunge and in the final quarter Crane's Jim Brough caught a pass from Dave Seeber to even the score and Brough converted for the extra point which decided the victor. The game was played on an extremely muddy field as it rained most of the previous night and continued through the morning.

Crane men starting the game were Bob Haymans, re; Bob Leistek, rt; Ben Lowell, rg; Ron Ballantyne, c; Armand Smith, lg; Bill Macomber, lt; Jack Bohon, lg; Dave Seeber, qb; Talcott Jones, rh; Jim Brough, lh; and Jim Gaeckle, fb. On Friday, Cranbrook School plays Busch High School at Centerline, the final game on the Crane schedule for Br. N. Grba's men.

The soccer team was the victor in their match with Shady Side by 4-1. Dave Reed of Shady Side made his school's tone tally in the first 15 seconds of play and in the same period, Dave Osnos placed a long kick past Al Scott, the Indians' net minder to tie the score. John Hunting tapped in a goal mouth pass for a 2-1 score in the same period.

Captain John Rice and Jack Spoehr added two more points for the Cranes and Shady Side's attempts to score in the second half were checked.

This game was the final contest in the Interstate Preparatory School League but on Friday, Cranbrook meets the Chatham Vocational School to conclude their season.

We Heard It Said By:

S. V. Hunley, 952 W. Ruffner: "Starlings are one of the most destructive nuisances I know of. Awhile back I actually saw a starling chase a squirrel out of two trees because he wanted the crust of bread the squirrel had. I believe the State Conservation Department couldn't go wrong on spending money on eradicating the starling instead of buying outstate hunting land where a rabbit crossing it would have to carry his lunch or starve to death."

High School Library Lists 55 New Books

A total of 55 new non-fiction books classified, cataloged, and ready for use are now in the Baldwin high school library.

These include, "Elements of Journalism", "Making the Most of Your Personality", "First Course in Psychology", "Personality Plus", "The Governments of Europe", "Magic in a Battle", "The Fun of Photography", "Football Facts and Figures", "Baseball Hall of Fame", "Connie Mack", and "I Remember Distinctly".

There are also several horse stories including, "Thoroughbreds", "Big Red", "Heads Up-Heels Down", "A Touch of Greatness", "Tomorrow's Champion", "Black, Bay and Chestnut" and "Deep Through the Heart".

GAA Swimmers Plan For Water Pageant

Plans for the development of a racing team, and the presentation of a water pageant were the main topics of discussion at the season's first meeting of the Sharks, G.A.A. swimming club, held last week in Baldwin gymnasium.

Sherrill Williams, president, was in charge of the meeting, at which many new members registered. The girls also plan to give demonstrations of formation swimming as a special feature at boy's meets.

Vaughan Students Attending Colleges

A recent check of the alumni records reveals that most of last year's class at the Bloomfield Hills High are now at college.

Grenville Andrews is attending Principia College, St. Louis, Mo., and Jim Bay is at Gambier, Ohio, attending Kenyon College. Brad Corregan has gone to Dartmouth, in Hanover, N. H.; while Nancy Hawkins and Dave Manley are at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla. Dick Lander is taking Navy training at University of Nebraska in Lincoln while Bob Miller is attending University of Detroit. Dick Miner and Dick Pohl are together at University of Colorado at Boulder, Colo.

Barry Parsons is at the University of Michigan, while Mary Ann Watson goes to Kalamazoo College. Harry Zering is currently visiting Babson's Institute in Massachusetts, with a view to attending there.

Of the remaining three members of the class, Ralph Grafe is in the U. S. Army. Helen Zelony and Geneva Moore, who are not attending college this year, are working locally.

Hot Lunch Program Starts At Vaughan

Since November 1, the Bloomfield Hills School students have had the benefits of a hot lunch program, sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills PTA. Seventy-eight children from elementary or high school grades signed for the lunches when they began, and its popularity has been such that 105 have signed for the next period.

The lunches are supplied by a Birmingham restaurant. Mrs. Lawrence Martz, representing the PTA supervises the distribution at the school.

A sample weeks menu is as follows: Monday, Spanish rice with meat; Tuesday, baked beans; Wednesday, vegetable soup; Thursday, spaghetti with meat sauce; Friday, macaroni and cheese.

News Notes from Vaughan School

Tuesday, Nov. 2, the members of Edward Dykstra's chemistry classes, which include practically all juniors and seniors, made a trip to Parke-Davis Company in Detroit. Aside from a few unpleasant smells, an enjoyable time was experienced.

Wednesday, the seniors closed the magazine sales campaign. In two weeks they sold over $500 worth, for a net profit to them of $201. Each senior had accepted a $25 quota, assigned by the co-chairmen Joan Wood and Howard Rogers. Dorothy Duffield, James Little, Barbara Bee, Richard Hatt, Shiela Flannery, Joan Wood, and Howard Rogers, all exceeded their quota by more than a third. Dorothy Duffield was the best salesman, having sold $96 worth.

Wednesday, was also the day of the third Student Council meeting. Bob Levin, treasurer, reported a $12.24 profit from the School Store. The topic of reducing noise in the halls between classes was discussed.

Pat Cray has gone to spend two weeks in New York, where she will ride in the Madison Square Garden horse show. She took Lady Luck and Harmony for a try, at the National title. Lady Luck is top horse in this section with 14 championships out of 14 shows.

Final varsity football game of the season was with A. E. Smith school of Wyandotte, and resulted in a Vaughan victory of 19-0. This ends a perfect season for the Bloomfield Hills team.
