YOU Give The Answers So We Can Have A BETTER Birmingham

mining just what sort of city we citizens want Birmingham to be years from now. In planning this future, certain of TODAY'S problems have a direct bearing on this future. By discovering what desires we local residents have NOW, and by learning what civic prob-lems we are most concerned with TODAY, the Plan Commission can proceed much faster and with greater accuracy.

To that end, then, The Eccentric in the next several issues will print the following qu mnaire regarding certain PRESENT and FUTURE matters of particular importance. It is hoped that EVERY citizen will answer this questionnaire IN FULL, and mail it to The Editor, Birmingham Eccentric. We, in turn, will transmit all questionnaires to the Plan Commission for their analysis and relation to Birmingham's future.

If, for some personal reason, you do not wish your name to accompany the questionnair to the Plan Commission, so indicate in the space reserved below. We will then cut your name and address off the bottom of the questionnaire before it is presented to the Plan Commission. However, to attest to the sincerity of your answers, The Editor must insist on you signing the questionnaire before it is mailed to him. If you desire to remain anonymous to the Plan Commission, he will see to it that your name does not accompany the questionnaire before it is mailed to him. If you tionnaire any further than his desk.
