Wilfred Fowler, quartermaster, third class, USN, of 423 Stary dr., Birmingham, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Parly with the Northern European Task Force...

It Happened in Kansas

The horse ambled along for a short distance and then stopped. This procedure was repeated several times. A curious bystander approached the farmer and asked kindly, "Is your horse sick?"

The College Group Choir did it again! We mean made a record in serving a fine dinner and giving a program worthy of professionals on Saturday evening in the "House in the Woods."

Bill Bush, president of the club was master of ceremonies and acted in a number of the acts. Chuck Oliver sang several numbers.

Mrs. Carl Taylor accompanied at the piano. Billy Gray sang "My Man" as an encore and made another hit with the villagers.

We are still trying to figure out how Yvonne Oliver, (Yvonne Steger), came out of her "coffin" after being sawed in half!

Tessy was a highlight of the program. Tessy was Clark Stewart in disguise, wig, bare shoulders, jewelry and all. Tessy sang in pantomime.

Bill Gleesking had several new cork tricks up his sleeve. Not forgetting "Mortimer Snerd". He was there in the person of Jack Bengal who did a thorough cleanup-job wielding his uncanny mop all around the "sawed-in-two body" of the sawed-in-two girl.

His getup was perfect including "Mortimer's" face. At one time during the evening he peddled bags of peanuts and when Bill Bush questioned him, "Have you got a license to sell?" "Mortimer" replied, "No, I've got peanuts to sell."

The Community Fashion choir under the direction of David E. Redwood, has accepted an invitation to sing Thanksgiving Eve in the union service of the Methodist church.

R. E. Elias of the village is hunting in the upper Peninsula. It is a combination of cool, frost, sawdust and a tar substance and is in brick form. Here, a housewife uses some of the new coal in her kitchen stove, since electricity and gas have been rationed.

Charles W. Zink got through the heavy snowfall safely from the upper Peninsula Saturday. He had been away only 48 hours but brought home his buck. His group this year were all lucky. They got five deer and a bear.

Dr. and Mrs. Ford K. Daines are up north at their homestead where they will hunt and relax for 10 days.

Attending the Detroit Civic Prize luncheon and fashion show were Mrs. Leroy Cline, Mrs. Guy Peppitt, Mrs. Alfred Rohm and Mrs. Ray Knowlsey.

Ray W. MacDonald of Glenwood boulevard, was recently appointed export manager of Burroughs Adding Machine company, Vice-President Ray E. Eppert, announced. MacDonald is past president of The Foreign Trade club of Detroit, vice-chairman of the international affairs section of the Economic club and member of World Affairs committee of Board of Commerce. He leaves in early December for Australia.

The Walter C. Ahlers of Glenwood boulevard, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday, Nov. 13, with a dinner party at Detroit Yacht club, followed by dancing. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Baker, of Highland Park, Ill., who were house guests of the Earl Doigs for the weekend.

Mrs. R. E. Elias of Saratoga boulevard, was tendered a birthday luncheon on Friday, at Canterbury House, was a surprise party given by villagers.

The Cub Scouts worked hard Saturday to collect more than five tons of papers!

Appoint New Teacher for Franklin School Mrs. Grace Harris, teacher at Franklin school, has resigned from the system to devote her full time to household responsibilities. She will be replaced by Mrs. Muriel Shepard, former instructor at Walnut Lake school.

Blockaded Berliners Make Coal

With coal on the scarce item list in blockaded Berlin, the Germans in the American sector have put on their thinking caps and come up with an "ersatz" coal which supplies six times as much heat as real coal. It is a combination of coal dust, sawdust and a tar substance and is in brick form. Here, a housewife uses some of the new coal in her kitchen stove, since electricity and gas have been rationed.

Stricter Observance of Traffic Laws Will Save More Lives and Property

Members of the police department ask the cooperation of motorists and pedestrians in keeping Birmingham traffic record in its enviable position in safety. Surveys show most pedestrian motor accidents are caused by disregarding traffic rules and regulations.

Pedestrians should avoid crossing between intersections, especially when pedestrians are waiting to step from between parked cars. The approaching motorist cannot see them until they are in the path of his car—which is often too late.

Motorists are guilty in these accidents of driving without due care and caution and speeding. They also fail to yield the right-of-way when pedestrians are crossing against failure to yield the right-of-way to vehicles at intersections and crossing against red lights.

More Care and Caution Motorists are guilty in these accidents of driving without due care and caution and speeding. They also fail to yield the right-of-way when pedestrians are crossing against failure to yield the right-of-way to vehicles at intersections and crossing against red lights.

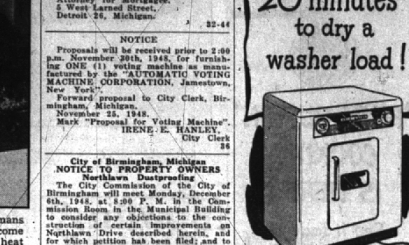

We have a splendid record here," Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said. "With proper care and caution, and the cooperation of all, we can keep it. Let's all work together, for the city and for ourselves."

Phalanx Fraternity Meets This Weekend

Walter Allison, president of the Omicron Alpha Chapter of Phalanx Fraternity, a group of post-high school graduates in the Birmingham YMCA, announced that James Doyle, Cleveland, and Reynold, Ken Braidwood, Bill Reed, Harry Sugden, Jim Kothe, Eugene Wilkins, managers and advisor Ed Kirbert will be delegates to the Michigan State Phalanx conference at St. Mary's winter camp near Battle Creek Dec. 4 and 5. The theme of the two-day conference is "Expanding Horizons for Young Men."

Discussion groups dealing with the following topics: How to Win Defeat Racial Prejudices? World Affairs of Today, Capital Punishment, Our Michigan Educational System, Dating and Mating and Mental Hospitals will form a major part of the program. In the recreational period, the local basketball team will meet the Battle Creek Chapter on one of the two courts. A midnight candlelight induction service will bring the Saturday program to an end.

A union church service and a message by John Lee, of the State YMCA staff, will bring the conference to a close Sunday morning.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., globe trotting journalist and member of a famous American family, will show personally photographed color motion pictures and speak on "Vagabonding with Vanderbilt in Post-War Europe" in a World Adventure Series public lecture at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 8:30 next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28. Vanderbilt toured Europe last summer in a sumptuous motor trailer equipped with shower, electric refrigerator, radio telephone and photographs and address room. His color motion pictures show towns and villages and people of Holland, Germany, England, Switzerland, France, Italy. Cornelius Vanderbilt has crossed the Atlantic 123 times, the Pacific 41. He has seen six years' service in two wars, has written 14 books, 92 magazine serials, 20 motion pictures scenarios. In 1942 he received the Distinguished Service Cross of the FBI. He has made writing trips to every continent.

Have You Met... Former Detroiters, Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. R. Slocum and their sons, Bill and John, who are making their home at 180 Henrietta. Mr. Slocum is district manager with Hall Brothers.
