PLACE KICKING SPECIALISTS — Bill Spiegel (on knee) and George Smith are the point after touchdown men for Michigan State's Spartans. In 1947 they kicked for 17 of 26. Should do better this year.

Special to The Birmingham Eccentric

EAST LANSING, MICH., Nov. 2—Michigan State College football fans, whether beside their radios or at the game, have heard repeatedly after the Spartans have pushed across to pay dirt, "Smith will kick, Spiegel holding."

Quarterback George Smith, all-around athlete from Wayne, Mich., is the "Mr. Automatic" of the Michigan State College Spartans this fall. Kicking specialist Smith and his partner, Bill Spiegel, half-back from Birmingham, have received many a pat on the back for their excellent showing in the conversion department.

Only One Example

With the "accurate Smith toe" and the "steady Spiegel hand" the Spartans tied Penn State 14-14. This is only one example of how these boys perform when the chips are down and every point counts.

Lathrup Village News

By LILLIAN DIEDERICH

Woman's Club met Monday in the "House in the Woods" and the guest speaker was Prof. William Wattenberg of Wayne University. His topic was "How to Tell Children About Sex." The tea chairman were Mrs. Howard Stock, Mrs. Eugene Hines, Mrs. A. A. Finnigan and Mrs. Edward Beyma.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stock and their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Finnigan, all of San Diego boulevard, will be in the New York City recently. The Wilbur Doran's, daughter, Margaret Doran, also spent a week there.

More than 250 children attended the Halloween party held at the school auditorium. A magician fascinated them with his sleight-of-hand tricks. A movie, too, helped to keep down the hubbub. Refreshments were served. Following the grand march, prizes were awarded. The committee included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth LaBarge, Mr. and Mrs. A. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Coppens, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schippel and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Orth of San Jose drive were hosts Saturday evening at a bridge party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Evans of Detroit, who are moving to St. Louis, Mo., soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Diederich, Jr., of Oak Park, announce the birth of a son, Mark E. Diederich, Oct. 28, at Woman's hospital Detroit. His grandparents are the John Diederichs of this village.

The James W. Stowers of California drive and their children, Marilyn and Carolyn, are enroute south, to take colored pictures, which for years back, has been his hobby, and in which he has now become a professional. Accompanying them from Cincinnati are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonhage formerly of the village, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ward of Detroit.

The turkey dinner sponsored by Circle 11 of the Community church was a great success about 235 persons. Mrs. Isabel McCrumb, school principal, is in charge of arrangements and will be assisted by the teachers.

We Heard It Said By:
Mrs. Ralph L. Fletcher of Webster street, upon being asked when her daughter was being married:
"My daughter Barbara's wedding plans are being held in abeyance until the housing shortage in Ann Arbor is alleviated. That means there will be immediate plans for the wedding if they can find a place and the plans are indefinite if they can't. So we're just not going to say anything about a date until someone somewhere in Ann Arbor vacates."
