

Parents Responsible for Property Damage by Their Children

Ralph Moxley, Birmingham police chief, reminds parents that they will be held responsible for damage caused by their youngsters. With the Halloween season upon us, it is sometimes too great a temptation, and the resultant mischief passes the point of good clean fun," he said. "Tuesday night we received a report that a faucet had been turned on in a new basement on Chester street, and that a boulder had been rolled into Pilgrim street. This is not fun. It's dangerous and destructive. A little drop of printer's ink can make a lot of people think—Try an Eccentric ad.

Harris-Tremper Vows Exchanged by Candlelight

Jan Lee Tremper and Robert Robert Edward Harris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edward Tremper of Winthrop, Maryland and the son of Mrs. Harland D.

Mrs. Robert E. Harris

Harris and the late Mr. Harris of Euclid avenue, exchanged nuptial vows at a candlelight service on Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. W. Glen Harris officiated at the rites and Mrs. Roy Brown, an aunt of the bride, presided at the organ.

For her wedding, Miss Tremper was joined in white satin fashioned along princess lines. The bottom neckline was accented by a fold edged with seed pearls in a leaf design. The yoke was of nylon marquisette and the full skirt swept into a chapel train. A Gainsborough headband held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of stephanotis and roses.

Miss Marilyn Harris, a sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Arthur Bull, Jr., of Birmingham and Mrs. Owen Middlebrook of Berkeley. All wore identical gowns of emerald green velvet, highlighted by softly shaped necklines finished with tiny collars and tiny buttons to the waistline, full skirts and bustles. They wore matching plumes in their hair and carried yellow carnations and ivy. Harland D. Harris, Jr., acted as the bride's best man and the ushers were Dr. Charles P. Payton of Royal Oak; William C. Gilman and Lawrence Quinn of Birmingham and Lloyd Keller of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Tremper chose a gown of fuchsia crepe and a small matching hat. Her corsage was of clematis orchids. Mrs. Harris wore blue crepe and a matching hat accented with cocoa plumes. Brown orchids were pinned to her purse.

Following the reception in the Community House, the young couple left on a trip to the south. For the first step of the journey the new Mrs. Harris selected a three piece gray suit with green accessories.
