OUR CONSTANT AIM is The Best Life Insurance Protection For You.

"Refined by long years of experience, liberalized by keen competition, and safeguarded by state laws and state supervision, the New England Mutual Life insurance policy is one of the most perfect contracts ever devised. It is the culminating result of over 100 years of effort to offer life insurance service on a strictly mutual basis. It is the product of stewardship and a trusteeship which has never swerved from the ideals of its Founders. It offers more privileges, more advantages, and more equitable treatment to policyholders than any other life insurance policy of any other life insurance company in America."

sleeves came to traditional points over the hands and the straight skirt fell from a fitted bodice and swept into a cathedral train. A Juliette cap of heirloom Duchesse lace held her hair in a length of veil of silk illusion. The veil extended beyond the train of the dress and finished off with Duchesse lace. Her bridal bouquet was made up of white roses.

Miss Jeanette Nicol served as her sister's honor maid in a dark green taffeta dress styled with a square neckline, a fitted bodice and a full, draped skirt. She wore a dark green clip band of shirred green grosgrain ribbon in her hair and carried a bouquet of bitterweet and rust colored mums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Paton of Birmingham; Miss Joan Lane of Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. William A. Bowen II of Somerville, N. J.; Miss Caroline Colvin of New York City; Miss Beverley Randolph of Charlottesville, Va.; Miss Loretta Julian of Staten Island, N. Y.; and Miss Ben M. McKinney of Winnipeg, Manitoba. All wore dresses of rust colored taffeta cut with off-shoulder necklines, fitted bodices and full skirts. On their hands they wore taffeta mitts and carried bouquets of bitterweet and rust colored mums.

Robert Morse Hamilton of Grosse Pointe acted as the best man and the ushers were Richard C. Page of Birmingham; Norton Williams of Bloomfield Hills; William S. Moore of Indian Village; Oliver McClintock II of Sewickley, Pa.; Albert Russell Wernick of Grosse Pointe and Renwick E. Knox of Birmingham.

Mrs. Nicol chose a full length dress of tulle with a lace neck insert for her daughter's marriage. Completing her ensemble were a brown felt hat with a tiny brim that was trimmed with tan, white and brown feathers. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Moore, wore a dusty rose full length gown with contrasting accessories.

Local Girls Are Church Brides

Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Alfred Moore, Mrs. James Folkertama. The above three Birmingham girls were married this week. The former Carol Louise McCutcheon was married Saturday afternoon in St. James Episcopal Church to John Wesley Snyder. Mrs. Moore, formerly Clara Childs Nicol, repeated her vows with Alfred C. Moore on Friday in Mt. Clemens. Barbara Jo Purton becomes the bride of James Folkertama on Friday in Mt. Clemens.

Barbara Jo Purton Becomes Bride of James Folkertama

In a setting of palms, cibotium ferns and standards of white chrysanthemums and asters, Miss Barbara Jo Purton and James Patrick Folkertama exchanged nuptial vows Friday in an evening candle-light service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kingley Gregg Purton of Chesterfield road and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Folkertama of Zeeland, Mich. The ceremony took place in the Grace Episcopal Church in Mt. Clemens with the Rev. George Merfield officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose the traditional ivory satin for her trousseau. The dress was fashioned with a drop shoulder neckline of sheer illusion outlined with a bertha of lace. Her sleeves were long and pointed over the hands and the full court train forming a bustle in the back fell over a hooped skirt. Her fingertip

League Distributes Election Bulletins

Mrs. Peter B. Loomis, voter's service chairman of the League of Women Voters, reports that more than 1,000 election information bulletins have been distributed in Birmingham.

Election information booths were at Minto from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. and at Sfires from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. last Friday and Saturday.

These bulletins containing information on all federal, state and county candidates, were distributed there and also questions concerning the election were answered.

Among those who worked at the booths were Mrs. C. Lawton Taber, Mrs. George Wylie, Mrs. George Weinhold, Mrs. Fred R. Smith, Mrs. Earl D. Triplett, Mrs. George Bowles, Mrs. R. W. Kelly, Mrs. Richard Sneed, Mrs. H. H. Gardner, Jr., and Mrs. Martin Butzel.

Outstanding Display

In the Floriculture show at the 99th Michigan State Fair and Exposition, Mrs. Louis Turner's table arrangement of annual flowers was announced as outstanding among the amateur displays.

Recently returned from a month at the Bradmore in Colorado Springs are MR. and MRS. BASIL E. BROWN.

wedding trip to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Folkertama was wearing a royal blue sheer wool suit with black accessories and a white orchid.

Upon their return they will make their home in East Lansing where they will both continue their studies at Michigan State College.

Carol Louise McCutcheon Is Married in Afternoon Rites to John Snyder

Miss Carol Louise McCutcheon and John Wesley Snyder III repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. Harold E. Towne in a simple ring ceremony which took place Saturday afternoon in St. James Episcopal Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bates McCutcheon of Lakeview and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Anderson of Pleasant Ridge.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin. The dress was fashioned with a high neckline and a small pointed collar that was bordered with chintilly lace. The long sleeves, also edged with chintilly, came to traditional points over the hands and a full skirt fell from the fitted bodice and swept into a chapel train.

A sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Roger Burga of Grand Rapids, acted as matron of honor in a cafe-au-lait satin with an off the shoulder neckline and long tight sleeves. A brown velvet sash and streamers completed her ensemble. In her arms she carried a bouquet of yellow roses with mums and bitterweet and in her hair she wore a band of fresh flowers.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Hester Matthews, and Miss Suzanne Montique of Mt. Clemens; Miss Mary Anne Queen of Grosse Pointe and Miss Jodie Place of Wheeling, West Va., were similarly attired in champagne satin. The bouquets were made up of autumn mums and bitterweet.

Young Cynthia Leiphart, daughter of the E. Henry Leipharth of Grosse Pointe and a cousin of the bride, led the procession to the altar as flower girl in a short apricot colored marquisette dress with a hooped skirt and wide low bertha. She wore a band of fresh flowers in her hair and scattered rose petals from a basket.

Hester Meech of Windsor was organist and Miss Joann Gooden of Mt. Clemens was soloist. Mrs. Purton wore a champagne chiffon velvet gown and had a brown orchid pinned to her bag. The bridegroom's mother chose a sapphire blue crepe with an orchid corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Oakland Hills Country Club. As the young couple left on carried nosegays of white mums and wore bands of matching flowers in their hair. Paul H. Gleye III was ring bearer. Martha Jane McCutcheon, a niece of the bride as flower girl, wore dotted swiss. She had a corsage of daisies in her hair and carried a basket of rose petals. Keith Blake served as the best man and the ushers were William E. Gerhard, Stephen Leonard and David L. Helm, Jr., all of Detroit.

The bride's mother wore a wine colored lace dress with a wine feathered hat and a lavender orchid corsage for the ceremony. Mrs. Snyder chose a rose crepe dress with a blue hat and an orchid corsage.

The Community House was the scene of the reception immediately following the nuptials. For the first step of their wedding trip to Chicago, the new Mrs. Snyder selected a brown galathea ensemble with brown accessories and pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet to her shoulder.

Upon their return, the young couple will make their home in Detroit.

One of our downright pleasures---

In addition to seeing our patrons generally, it is a particular pleasure for us to meet Birmingham's new little citizens. Time was, in fact, when some of our present-day grown-up patrons who are now visiting the Shop with their youngsters were just little tikes themselves.

But then, this Shop is "nearly twenty now" itself; despite the difficulty in realizing it—which is mostly because the years in Birmingham have been such busy ones for us as we endeavored to keep pace with the growth of the community.

As the passing seasons melt into years we assure you that Birmingham's youngsters are always welcome here, and that we shall take particularly good care of them when they are old enough to come to the Shop alone.

Next time your youngster is with you, let us show the little lad or lassie the new Books and Toys and Games: designed for his and her age level.
