

Nancy Price Is Sept. 7 Bride

In a four o'clock ceremony performed in the Kirk of the Hills Church on Sept. 7, Miss Nancy Price spoke her nuptial vows with James Willard McNabb before the Rev. Joseph A. Vance. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wales Price of Oakland avenue and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. McNabb of LaGrange, Ill.

The bride chose a beige pink suit with a canyon brown hat and accessories. Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations and tuberoses.

Mrs. Weldon Price, as matron of honor, was dressed in a tawny brown suit with cocoa brown accents. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

A brother of the bride, Weldon Price, served as the best man and another brother, Henry W. Price, and William O. Sullivan of Chicago seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Price was gowned in a grey silk ribbon knit dress with a chrysanthemum lily corsage. Mrs. McNabb wore a dress of royal blue. Rhubarb lilies were pinned to her shoulder also.

The reception was held in the church parlors following the rites. The young couple left shortly after for Champaign, Ill., where Mr. McNabb is a senior at the University of Illinois.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Sidney Maher of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. LaGrange, Ill.; William Pope of Racine, Wis.; Miss Patricia Nolan of Ann Arbor; Miss Carol Wells of Minneapolis; and Mrs. Harold Anderson and her daughter, Carol of Maumee, Ohio.

Leaving by cars this Sunday for the east are Mrs. C. G. EDEN and her daughter, Patty of Lone Pine road. Miss Eden will return to school at Bernardville, N. J.

Repeat Their Vows

Mrs. William McEaney and Mrs. Robert Heckenkamp. Elizabeth Trux Nichol became the bride of William Peter McEaney of Boston Saturday at a ceremony performed in St. Hugo of the Hills Church. The former Marilyn Adams was wed to Robert Heckenkamp at noon Saturday in Holy Name Church.

Marilyn Adams Is Wed in Holy Name Church Ceremony

Before the gladioli and rose-adorned altar of Holy Name Church in Birmingham, Marilyn Jean Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Handolph Adams of Kenesaw road, became the bride Saturday of Robert Joseph Heckenkamp of Westfield, N. J. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Heckenkamp.

The Rev. Jerome MacEachin of East Lansing officiated at the double ring high noon ceremony. The bride wore draped white satin with a bustle skirt falling into a long train. Her headpiece was of pearls and illusion veiling. She carried white orchids and her only jewelry was an heirloom double necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Continuing a family tradition,

Mrs. Heckenkamp's matron of honor was Mrs. Jack O'Brien of South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Heckenkamp last month was maid of honor at the wedding of Mrs. O'Brien, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Birmingham. The Birmingham had served as matron of honor and best man at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Adams and they had performed a like service for the Birmingham.

The matron of honor wore a frock fashioned of gray lace with a floor length skirt and a cascade of ruffles set into an inverted pleat in the back. She carried American Beauty roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Dolores Booker of Muskegon Heights; Miss Ellen Anderson and the bride's sister, Miss Ellen Ann Adams of Birmingham. They wore green fall gowns, picture hats and carried yellow roses.

Louis Hiers, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., acted as best man and serving as ushers were the bride's brother, Charles Adams, Colin Campbell of Bronxville, N. Y., and William Heckenkamp, a brother of the groom.

Mrs. Adams wore a full length gown of royal blue with sweet-heart neck and matching accessories. The senior Mrs. Heckenkamp chose a draped gown of deep blue with a hip bow.

Following the ceremony approximately 200 guests gathered for the buffet and reception at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

For her going away costume, Mrs. Heckenkamp chose cocoa brown gabardine, shoes and purse of green alligator and a hat and coat of gold. Following a wedding trip in Quebec and Montreal, the Heckenkamps will be at home in East Lansing where Mr. Heckenkamp is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and his bride a graduate of Michigan State College, a member of Delta Theta.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McEaney Will Make Home Abroad in Warsaw, Poland

Elizabeth Trux Nichol, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Slocum Nichols of Bloomfield Hills and Peter—William McEaney, the son of Mrs. P. A. McEaney of Boston, Mass., and the late Mr. McEaney, exchanged their nuptial vows in a 12:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday in St. Hugo of the Hills Church. Officiating at the service was the pastor's brother, the Rev. John McEaney.

For her wedding rites the bride was dressed in a white lace, hoop-skirted gown with a high yoke neckline, a lace bertha and long sleeves. Her veil of illusion was fashioned of three layers of material and was held by a crown of lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of Juliet's flowers.

Mrs. Arthur D. Foley of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a sister of the bride acted as matron of honor and another sister, Miss Charlotte Donnelly Nichols was maid of honor. Both wore gowns of green satin, the full skirts over hoops. In their hair they wore green velvet leaves and in their arms they carried bouquets of gladioli.

The bridesmaids, Mary Grace Donnelly and Miss Dorothy Looker of Detroit; Mrs. Vernon Wilkinson of Washington, D. C., were dressed in copper rose satin. Their gowns were cut along the same lines as the honor attendants'. They also carried bouquets of gladioli.

Joseph P. McCormick came from New York to act as best man and the guest of honor was Elliott S. Nichols, John Donnelly, Thomas Oakes of Kansas City, Mo., James McIntosh, Robert McInch and Lt. William Fey.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the Nichols home.

As the young couple left on the first step of their trip to Warsaw, Poland where Mr. McEaney will take up his work in the diplomatic service, the new Mrs. McEaney was wearing a grey suit with taupe accessories.

Kathleen Higby to Present Recital

Kathleen Lamond Higby, 14 year old pianist, will be presented by Glad Siano, head of the piano department of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, in a recital at the Baldwin Library Auditorium Friday evening, Sept. 24, at 8:15. The public is cordially invited.

Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Higby of Delmore road, commenced her piano studies at the age of eight with Mrs. Reiner Putters and for the past three and one half years has been a student at the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Included on her program will be selections by Bach, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Chopin and some modern composers.

While a seventh and eighth grade student at Poppleton school Kathleen was accompanist for the school glee club and appeared as soloist on numerous school and parent-teacher programs. She is now beginning her second year at the Little Flower high school and will celebrate her 15th birthday next month.
