Down through the ages . . . the making of fine furniture has been a romantic and skillful profession. The glorious heritage passed down by such colorful masters as Chippendale . . . Duncan Phyfe . . . Hepplewhite . . . and Sheraton has endowed the profession with a lustre that grows brighter each year.

Few professions experience the deep . . . proud feeling of satisfaction so apparent at the completion of a brilliantly designed . . . perfectly-built piece of furniture. Few professions, moreover, can match the color and romance of a cabinet-making shop.

We are proud to sell fine furniture; furthermore, we feel certain that you, too, will share in this feeling—that you will be proud of this fine . . . soundly constructed . . . beautiful furniture.

Wilson-Walsh Vows Spoken

St. Dunstan's Chapel of Christ Church Cranbrook was the setting for the informal afternoon marriage ceremony of Miss Virginia Ann Walsh and Richard James

Mrs. Richard Wilson

Wilson Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Walsh of Ridgedale avenue and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Wilson of Puritan road.

The young couple repeated their vows to the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt in a double ring service before an altar banked with white flowers and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a pale green gabardine suit with a brown hat and brown accessories. Pinned to her shoulder were two white orchids. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

Miss Laurel Walsh acted as her sister's maid of honor in a wine red gabardine suit with navy acc-and a gardenia corsage. Donald Wilson, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Ralph Lee of Birmingham acted as the officiant.

The reception was held at the Walsh home following the rites.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to the Muskoka Lake region, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home here in Birmingham.

Will-O-Way to Star Minnie Jo Curtis in "Sailor Beware"

"Candle-Light" starring Charles Korvin will continue at the Will-O-Way Playhouse through Sunday evening, Sept. 5, with a matinee on Saturday. Beginning Sept. 7, the show will be directed by William W. Merrill with settings designed by Harold W. Meinert.

"Sailor Beware" will star Minnie Jo Curtis who made such tremendous success in the role of Ruth in "My Sister Ellen" at Will-O-Way this season. Features in the performance will be Richard Charlton, who is co-producer and director at Will-O-Way, in the role of "Dynamite Jones."

"Sailor Beware" played over 500 performances on Broadway and is listed among the all-time, long run hits. It is a comedy in two acts embracing eight scenes. The show will be directed by William W. Merrill with settings designed by Harold W. Meinert.

Will-O-Way is happy to extend their season from the originally planned ten weeks to at least one more play and perhaps still more. Patrons are advised to avoid disappointments by phoning ahead for reservations. "First-Nighter" attendance has been mainly composed of Birmingham residents who are making Will-O-Way a regular thing.

Art Classes to Begin

Mrs. Dorothy Lee Beals of East Brown street has announced that her fall art classes for children will begin Sept. 13. They will be held from 4:00-6:00 on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry R. Williams Will Make Their Home in Alexandria, Va.

At a candlelight ceremony in Christ Church Cranbrook, Saturday evening, Miss Kathleen Ann Ballentine spoke her wedding vows to Perry Roberts Williams.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to New Hampshire and Martha's Vineyard, the new Mrs. Williams was wearing a navy and white silk print dress with a navy jacket lined in the same print. Her hat and accessories were navy, and she was wearing the orchid from her bouquet.

They will be at home in the Parkfairfax Apartments in Alexandria, Va., where the bridegroom will enter the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Raynor, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, from Freeport, L. I.; Miss Ann Towle of Portsmouth, Rhode Island; Mrs. Richard H. Pass of Syracuse, N. Y.; Mrs. Frederick Riessen of Oconomowoc, Wis., and her son Mr. Charles

Mrs. Perry Williams

Williams with the Rev. Robert L. De Witt officiating.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Raymond Ballentine of Linden avenue was given in marriage by her father. She chose a traditional gown of ivory satin made with long sleeves and a tight-fitting bodice extending into a caudal train. Rose point lace which belonged to her paternal grandmother accented the sweetheart neckline and her full length veil of ivory illusion fell from a crownless shirred cap of point-de-Paris lace which came from her maternal great-grandmother. She carried a white prayer book with a spray of orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Adelaide Pass of Syracuse, N. Y., the bride's roommate at Smith College, was her maid of honor, in a pale yellow taffeta gown, fashioned with a flaring skirt, square yoke and short sleeves with pointed cuffs. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a crescent bouquet of tawny gladioli.

Gwen Williams, sister of the bridegroom, was the junior maid of honor and was gowned like the honor maid in lime green taffeta. Her flowers were coral gladioli.

The bridesmaids were gowned in seafoam shades of blue and green and carried shaded yellow gladioli. They were Katherine Kemp of Bloomfield Hills; Mary Ren of Detroit, a cousin of the bride; Mrs. Charles J. Coulter, Jr. of Tuxedo Park, N. Y.; Winifred Mann of Great Neck, L. I.; Jeffrey Bartlett of Lewiston, N. Y.; and Carroll Laiby of Peoria, Ill.

The bridegroom who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Godfrey Williams of Garden City, Kansas his cousin Richard Raynor of Hempstead, L. I., to be his best man. The ushers were David Arthur Ballentine, brother of the bride; Weston L. Roberts Jr. of Pelham, N. Y.; William H. Webster of Webster Groves, Mo.; Charles J. Coulter of Tuxedo Park, William Huntington of Red Hook, N. Y.; James Bradbury of Muskegon, and John Sanders of Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Ballentine chose a gown of shell pink silk crepe fashioned with a short train for the wedding and reception following the ceremony at the Orchard Lake Country Club. Her tulle hat was of cocoa brown, with a trim of pink roses. Her flowers were gardenias.

Celebrate Their 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. McLeese of Brookdale boulevard invited their friends to an open house yesterday in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Assisting the host and hostess were Mesdames George Finch, Hugh White, Isaac Roberson and Harry Gruber.

The Misses Mary Kemp, Judy Olson, Betty Whitelaw, Carolyn Metzger, Virginia Carter, Jane Hood and Sarah Breitenstein served the guests.

Out of town guests included Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Van Horn of Tar Hill, N. J.; Miss Margaret McLeese from Midland and Donald McLeese from Chicago, Ill.

The Charles Shains Return from 10,000-Mile Auto Journey

A visit to the new Palomar Observatory and the Grand Canyon Dam were the highlights of the trip taken by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shain of Pierce street. The Shains started out by auto on July 10 and just returned to Birmingham Friday after covering approximately 10,000 miles.

They traveled through 17 states besides Alberta and British Columbia in Canada, and a part of their trip was a journey of 1700 miles right along the coast down to Laguna, Fla.

One of the best parts of the tour, Mrs. Shain said, was the chance to see many Birmingham people who have moved to other parts of the country.

*Lovely Today
Lovely a Lifetime*

IN the maelstrom of a fashion-changing world some possessions are lovely today, and lovely a lifetime.

It is a good thing that this is so. The beauty of, an artistic creation which never grows old makes of it something ever more cherished. And such a link with one's earlier years provides, of itself, a sense of satisfaction in that it constantly reflects the sense of values, the quality in discrimination, and the love of rarer craftsmanship which entered into the purchase.

LaBelles is a Shop which purveys many beautiful and unusual things in silver, crystal and ceramics which are not only lovely today, but lovely a lifetime.
