The sign of quality is the Mounted Indian Warrior on every can of paint, varnish and enamel made by the Pontiac Varnish Company. Whether you do your own painting or have a painting contractor do it for you, it will pay you to use paint products that have the Mounted Warrior on the can.

Pontiac Varnish Company paints are durable. They resist fading. They are easily applied and give better coverage per gallon. They will protect your property from the ravages of the weather and provide enduring beauty for years to come.

Pontiac Varnish Company paints are manufactured by a firm that has produced paints for industrial uses for more than four decades. There is hardly an automobile that does not have some part protected by Pontiac Varnish Company paint. Now the same quality paints that won wide recognition in industry are available for use in your homes. The uniformity of quality is insured by laboratory control at every step of the manufacturing process.

Look for the sign of the Mounted Indian Warrior. It is the symbol of quality paint that will safeguard and beautify your property.

GIRL SCOUTS

Say "Thank You"

The following letter has been received from the 17 senior Girl Scouts of Petoskey, Michigan, high school who used the Girl Scout cabin at Springdale Park as their overnight headquarters while visiting Detroit in June:

"On behalf of the Senior Service Scouts of Troop No. 9 I wish to express our appreciation for all the wonderful things you Girl Scout and Girl Scout Council did to make our stay in Birmingham so delightful and comfortable. I also think that the write up in the Birmingham paper was very graphic.

Thank you, Petoskey Girl Scouts. May we always remember our Girl Scout law: "A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout."

"Warm Friends"

Local troops working hard to get their clothes for friendship kits mailed before old man winter closes in on thousands of Europe's youngsters who have no warm clothes to wear will be interested in this letter from Mrs. Harry Truman, honorary president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.:

"I have been following the progress of your Clothes for Friendship project with very real interest and am pleased that so many members of the Girl Scout organization are helping destitute children abroad. It is an excellent thing that you will meet and surpass your goal of one million garments by the end of the year, for your effort to date shows deep and heartfelt interest in this humanitarian effort and it is a credit to the Girl Scout family from the youngest troop members to their adult advisers and leaders. To do all they can to make the total number of garments collected more than a million, for I feel that in this cause we should all do more than our best.

Bea W. Truman
Honorary President"
100,000 Kits

How are your kits coming, Scouts? The leaf cool nights we have had recently will spur you on to track down outdoor snow suits, warm socks and underwear, cuddly pajamas. Remember, we've promised to send 100,000 kits each kit containing ten articles of clothing, to Europe before the end of the year. It means hard work but whoever heard of a Girl Scout being scared of hard work for a good cause?

Troops in our neighboring town of Pontiac have collected and conditioned enough clothes for over fifty kits. Another troop of Brownies in Florida voted out almost its entire small troop treasury to do all they can to make the total number of garments collected more than a million. Let's hear what's going on in Birmingham to "make warm friends."
