

Will Lead Ferris Golfers in Match With Olivet Team

BIG RAPIDS, MICH.—When the Ferris Institute golf team invades Olivet on April 30, one member of the team will be George Auchterlonie of Birmingham, who has been making just about the best showing among the 19 team candidates. George is getting some long drives and his putting reminds one of champion pros. However, George has not yet added a hole-in-one to his list. Playing with him at Olivet probably will be Gene Wright of Pontiac, another top notcher, who has played with George at Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills before the men went to Ferris. Bob Ware of Menomans looks good as does Tom Hoak of Clio and Eddie Beer of Petoakey.

New at the Zoo

The proud, upraised head of Ely, a Bactrian camel at New York's Central Park Zoo, seems to indicate that she thinks her brand-new offspring, Pat, is worth walking a mile for any day. The 75-pound baby camel is a bit shy for his camera debut.
