(formerly Summer's Good Food)

IT'S OUT OF DATE...

The old idea that you have to starve to grow slim. Today it is a scientific fact that all body needs must be met—hunger satisfied. So if you have to eat, but really want an attractive figure—just use a little will power.

Compulsory Sickness Insurance. This prescription can make a healthy nation sick. Includes illustrations of a doctor and medicine bottles.

This prescription can make a healthy nation sick. There is talk of giving the people more "security" by extending government control to medical care. It is nice talk—but it doesn't make for a nice future. Europe is full of tragic examples of people running to the government for security, only to find that the more it got, the sicker the nation became. Your doctor has nothing to lose from compulsory health insurance; he would have a guaranteed practice with guaranteed pay—and all the prerogatives of a bureaucratic life. But how about YOU—you, the person who pays with a shrunken take-home wage? Will you be better off—or worse? Get under all this "nice" talk, and see where you end up. Let your doctor give you the real facts about government controlled medicine so that you can weigh the ugly side of it as well as the sugar-coated promises.
