peared in the winning column before the season closed that many children were not able to be rewarded. New certificates have been ordered and will be on hand during the opening day ceremonies next year.

From all the reports which we have received so far, indications are that last week's water circus was the best show of its type ever held in Barnum pool. Both participants and the audience had a very enjoyable time. The only sorry note of the evening was that some spectators had to be turned away because all seating and standing space was filled soon after activities started. It looked like the saturation point for performances had been reached also because after the first hundred and some had entered, spaces along the sides of the pool were actually lacking.

Those children who attended the final day's activity had long-awaited expectations fulfilled when their swimming in the pool with some of the soft netting that man seems to be so concerned about to ease we have been unable to learn who collected most of the treasure but have learned that our customers would like to have this stunt repeated every day next summer. Sorry boys and girls, Fort Knox is away.

The Recreation Board wishes to pay its final tribute to the Birmingham Eccentric for acquainting our public with some of the "goings on" which have provided a healthy wholesome outlet for those who desire to have a profitable summer.

Way back last June, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagner and children left for Mommouth, Me. Bob returned some time ago and last week Mrs. Wagner, with Carol and Billy, returned home by plane. While in Maine they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Stump, Mrs. Wagner's parents.

Forest Fire
"I'm all right! I'm awfully tired, and it was a mess." That is what Shep Grim wrote home from Montana State College, after returning from his fighting on the Great Falls. Daddy Grim read of the big fire quite a ways from the school in the paper and was feeling Shep would volunteer. He didn't know until he received the letter that the fire was so big the son had gone and fought the fire with other students for five long hours and nights before it was under control.

Mrs. Grim is in the Adirondacks League Club in New York and will pick up Peggy Jo sometime this week to return to their home on Beverly road.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Friese have been in their new home at 17501 Dunblaine almost a year they feel that they are just getting well settled. They have two daughters, Brennis and Kristin. Mrs. Friese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fangermeyer, are at their summer place at Stony Point.
