Auxiliary Bazaar to Be Tomorrow

Plans are completed for the annual Christmas bazaar and luncheon which is being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church Cranbrook tomorrow, Dec. 2 in the church.

A Chinese theme will be carried out. Doors will be open from 12 until 5:00 p.m. Mrs. Duncan Hamner and Mrs. James E. Dunbar are co-chairmen for the affair. A sandwich luncheon will be served during the afternoon.

The bazaar will have an apron booth, linens, a gift booth, a greens and novelties booth, a Treasure Chest and a baked goods booth.

A Tense Moment in "The Traitor"

Is there radioactive material in the room? Templin Licklider, Milner Thom and Malcolm Denny listen for the telltale click of the Geiger Counter which makes its stage debut in Herman Wouk's modern melodrama, "The Traitor".

The play will be given its first local production by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook Friday and Saturday this week and again on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 and 10.

Other leading roles are played by Thomas King, Mrs. John Parrott and Jervis McMechan, who is also directing the production.

Community House Dance on Dec. 10

The Birmingham Community House is starting the holiday season off with its second in a series of four adult dances, on Dec. 10 at 9:30. The dance is to be semi-formal and will be cabaret style with a planned entertainment during intermission, introducing local as well as professional talent. The Ranch Room will be open at 12:00 to serve food for all who feel the need of a midnight snack. Tickets are now on sale at the Community House, or may be purchased at the door. Mrs. Heber Hizar, Mrs. James McCoy, Mrs. George Dixon, Mrs. Harris Marcus, and Mrs. B. B. Kelley are serving on the committee under their chairman Mrs. Carlton H. Iley.

Mask and Wig Club Patronesses Named

The undergraduate male cast of "Adamant", the University of Pennsylvania Mask and Wig musical comedy group will play at the Music Hall on Dec. 29.

Four songs, "Kissing Me", "Got You Right Where I Want You" and "Your Life is My Life" have been already recorded by two leading singers of the day.

Additional patronesses for the show include Mrs. Charles E. Willson, Mrs. Joseph F. Page, Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson, Mrs. Howard Flint, Mrs. Frederick W. Campbell, Mrs. George H. Zimmerman and Mrs. Robert N. Woodruff.

General display advertising deadline is 5 p.m. each Tuesday.

CHRISTMAS PRE-VUE MONDAY, DEC. 5 7 to 10 P.M.

We're looking forward to seeing you next Monday evening—XMAS PRE-VUE TIME.

You are invited to the CHRISTMAS PREVUE MONDAY, DECEMBER 5—7 TO 10 P. M. and especially to THE VILLAGE STORE IN THE PINE ROOM:

SKI FASHION SHOW — Skiers may look like people, but don't let that fool you. In reality they're creatures who spring from bed two hours before dawn on Sunday, pile into a car, bus or train . . . and head for the nearest hill covered with snow.

En route great care is taken that no one feels separated from his crowd or equipment. Each skier entangles himself in an ingenious pattern of skis, ski poles, thermos bottles, spare parkas, ski boots and somebody's half eaten cheese on rye.

It is true that skiers have complained they couldn't breathe well enough to laugh and sing lusty songs with the rest, but these were at the bottom of the pile. On arrival at the scene of prospective self-destruction, skiers pound their chests and hasten to the ski lift. They ride up the hill. They slide down. They fall down. They ride up again. They slide down. They fall down. This is considered great sport among skiers.

But even greater sport among skiers is the selection of their costume. It must be technically right in every detail and it must be colorful. Ski fashions are changing fast. You don't want to look like grandmother in hoop skirts when you reach the lift. You'll want others to look with envious eyes.

So we've arranged a Ski Fashion Show for next Monday night. You'll see all of the latest creations of that famous creator of ski fashions, White Stag. You'll see the new and startling tie patterns in jackets and anoraks, the newest in ski pants and other apparel. You'll see the latest models in boots, and the latest improvements in skis.

And whether you ski or not, you'll want to see these winter fashions. They are as handsome on the street as at the bottom of a hill.

WINTER MOVIES OF SUN VALLEY — If you're like us, and have never seen Sun Valley in the winter, you'll feel you've been there after seeing the beautiful colored movies. They are being presented through the courtesy of the Union Pacific Railway, whose deluxe trains take you to this winter paradise.

And should these movies incite you into planning a trip to Sun Valley, or Aspen, or St. Moritz, remember that all of your traveling arrangements—and hotel accommodations—can be arranged at the Birmingham Travel Service in the Village Store.

FOR THAT CHILL EVENING AIR — To ward off possible untoward results from walking about Birmingham's chilly streets next Monday evening, stop in at the Village Store for a steaming cup of that famous private blend coffee.

OPENING Birmingham's Finest Men's Shop IN THE NEW CEDAR ROOM

VISIT THE PHOTOMETRIC ROOM — Here you will see that array of precision equipment built into a room specially designed for it. This new and revolutionary development in men's suit manufacture is sweeping the country. We are extremely fortunate in having been selected to handle Photometric for suburban Detroit. You will see just how the camera can catch your every dimension, so that error is practically eliminated.

You will better understand how your suit can be the best fitted garment you have ever worn. And the amazing samples of fine fabrics will give you more than 1,000 choices—in every color. You will see the finest of domestic woolsens (by Forstmann) and the finest of British worsteds and tweeds.

The days of tedious fittings are over. The days of selecting a second or third choice garment from the ready-made shelf are over. Now you can get just what you want, tailored as you want, in the exact fabric you want. And all for a price which will surprise you.

So, be among the first to see this new development. Orders can be taken at any time from and after December 13.

AND SEE THE NEW CEDAR ROOM — Two days ago a travelling representative of a clothing firm told us that the new Cedar Room was the most beautiful men's store in five states. We thought he was a bit enthusiastic. Then came a second travelling wholesaler. He said the new Cedar Room was far the most beautiful men's shop in Michigan. Now we were getting down. If the next chap would only say it was the most beautiful in Oakland County, then we would be content to quote him. So this morning that third man came in. He looked around, and then said: "Well, I travel in seven states in the Middle West, and I hit just about every man's store. There's nothing like this in those nine states."

So, we could see we were losing around, and just decided to leave it that way. You come and see for yourself.

The new Cedar Room will have everything that Man will want for Christmas, and through the year. You ladies can relax about HIS Christmas. Come with him to the Cedar Room next Monday night, and while he's looking at that new Photometric equipment, or sipping a cup of delicious Village Store coffee, you can browse around and get ideas galore.
