Home Lighting Pre-Judging Starts Tonight

To assure that every home in the Birmingham area has a chance of winning one of the prizes being offered in the joint Birmingham Kiwanis-Detroit Edison home lighting contest, teams of Kiwanis members will tour every street tonight and tomorrow night, as pre-judging of the best decorations in their home areas. The pre-judging was designed to speed the final judging by a committee of three representative citizens.

Kiwanis members who will act as pre-judges include Frank Art, Ken Hoover and Ralph Williams for the Beverly Hills district; Charles Savage, Jim Sterling and William Thornbury for the Pierce school district; Tom E. Ward, Dan D. Andrus and Nick Mitchell for the Adams School district south of Maple ave.; Francis McGovern, Robert G. Silbar, and Robert Jones for the Adams school district north of Maple ave.; Don Chaffee, Rev. George D. Clark and Bob Garrison for the Quanton school district.

$50 First Prize

Home owners who have not filled in a formal entry form, carried elsewhere in the Birmingham Eccentric, are asked to do so before 5 p.m. tomorrow, Dec. 23. It was announced today that the coupon will make it certain that the prize will not be overlooked in the contest, but that coupons were not absolutely necessary to win a prize.

Final judges in the contest will be Mrs. Melville B. Robb; City Commissioner Garland B. Tish, and Paul C. Grant.

First prize in the contest will be $50 for the honor of having the most beautiful outdoor Christmas decorations. A $25 prize will be given for the most unusual or original decorations and a $25 prize for the most attractive lighted entranceway. In addition, three honorable mention prizes of $10 each will be awarded.

Prize winners will be announced as soon as final decision is reached so that it will be possible to tour the Birmingham area at night during Christmas week to see the displays.

Welcome Christmas - Birmingham Style

Come one! Come all! to the annual Christmas Carol Sing in Civic Center Park "the night before Christmas" from 5:30 to 6:00 P.M.

Don't be satisfied to be a bath-room baritone, but come out with the rest of Birmingham's good citizens and join with your friends and neighbors to give Santa a royal welcome.

To get you a singing word, the festivities will be launched by the mixed chorus of one hundred voices from Barman junior high under the direction of Majel Brizette together with the brass ensemble from Baldwin directed by Arnold Berndt presenting "No Candle Was There and No Fire", "Christmas Lullaby", and "Gloria in Excelsis Deo".

Will Sing Old Favorites

Then will follow the community singing of carols to be chosen from spectator to participant.

It will be long before our Bill Spence will have every one giving out with a Melchior or Traub-like c r e s c e n d o. There'll be no for you know these old favorites—so let's all join in the chorus as Christmas Eve descends.

The Park is an ideal setting for the grand Christmas tree which is adorned in her most festive attire—she'll blaze forth mightily to fill the hearts of young and old with holiday spirit and joy.

World a Better Place

A little Christmas Spirit is welcome anywhere these days. The world would be a better place if we didn't continue our celebrating of Peace on Earth—Good Will Toward Men to one season.

But since Christmas comes but once a year it's a great feeling to stand with your neighbor and openly give voice to the fine sentiment of these enduring Christmas carols.

We'll make this year's sing even
