

Lack of Returning Players to Hamper BHS Court Team

A tough schedule, composed largely of Class A schools, will face the Maples when they open the current basketball season at the Eastern Michigan League invitation tournament at Mt. Clemens Dec. 14, 16, and 17.

East Detroit will be Birmingham's first opponent at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The winner of this contest will meet Mt. Clemens Friday night.

Prospects of the league teams find Birmingham with four returning lettermen, three of whom were injured in football and are probably out for the season. East Detroit will field a team of four returning first-stringers.

Coach Lloyd Cooper finds it hard to make any statement concerning the prospects of this year's squad. He did comment that the team was working very hard.

The first night of the EML tournament will pit East Detroit against Birmingham at 7 o'clock; Hazel Park against Port Huron at 8:30; while Ferndale and Mt. Clemens drew byes.

At 7 o'clock Friday night Mt. Clemens will play the winner of the Birmingham-East Detroit game while Ferndale meets the winner of the Hazel Park-Port Huron contest at 8:30 p.m.

Crippled Children Feted at Cranbrook

A Christmas party for crippled children of Oakland County was given Saturday afternoon at the Cranbrook School assembly hall under the sponsorship of the Kingswood and Cranbrook School student cabinet.

Transportation was under the direction of Mrs. Verne G. Perry, chairman of the lay board of visiting nurses, assisted by Mrs. Howard H. Robinson and Mrs. E. S. Wellock. From orthopedic clinics and classrooms, 63 children were guests at the party.

Gifts purchased with student council funds were distributed by visiting nurses and Christmas stockings filled by two Birmingham Girl Scout troops, under the direction of Mrs. John St. Clair, were received by the guests.

During the afternoon, movies were shown, and a dance routine by Kingswood students, Henrietta Kleinpell and Robin Squier was presented. The small Cranbrook school orchestra, under the direction of Axel Magnuson, played two numbers and the small glee club, directed by Robert Bates, led the carol singing. Solos were sung by Robert Kerns. A magic show by Robert Bartlett concluded the program.

Among these were six successful persons from Birmingham, including Robert A. Fisher, Morley Walker, Richard C. Van Dusen, Bruce D. Armstrong, V. John Manikoff and James W. Rowland. Walter O. Koch of Franklin also

Little Flower Class Stages Musical Show

Several Birmingham girls took part in the Little Flower high school's presentation of "Don't Cry Joy," last week.

Written by Mary O'Connor, the musical comedy was under the direction of Alicia Cumiskey.

Among the featured acts were three vocal duos, Mary O'Connor and Jim Marentette, Kay Luther and Tom Reardon and Mary Sue Clossman and Jim Marentette.

Others who had featured roles were Barbara Lonergan and Jeanne Perin in the Bell dance and Bill Nesbitt as the latter's partner for the tango.

The cast included Pat Shea, Kay Luther, Marilyn Mooney, Art Melis, Stephanie DeGrote, Jean Lahodney, Al Jean and David Cox. Music was under the direction of Nancy Coon.

The stage crew was made up of Joanne Cote, Christine Bayer, Jackie Cutler, Estelle Ploie, Diane Berger, Debbie Baker and Gloria Saulnier.

The members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Bergel in Bloomfield Hills for fun and food after the program.

Emerald Key planned to celebrate his third birthday this Saturday night.

It Says Here ...

By Sally Collins
That everyone was ready for a little shuteye after a full weekend of club meetings and the dance.

CTA club held its meeting at Martha Kraft's home Friday afternoon. They made plans to present their annual Christmas program for the William home in Detroit tomorrow night.

A compulsory meeting was called at Charlie Burnham's home Saturday night so that KST club could make plans for a stag party.

Tri-A members will entertain the younger children at the jave-nile home in Pontiac and send Christmas presents to the patients at tuberculosis sanitarium.

Northwestern Honors Dr. Ray Billington

Dr. Ray A. Billington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Billington, Southfield road, has been appointed to the William Smith Mason professorship of American history at Northwestern university. He has been teaching at Northwestern since 1944. Prior to that he was a professor at Smith college, Clark university and Western Reserve university.

Localities to Appear in Panel Discussion on German Problems

The Foreign Policy association will sponsor a panel discussion on "Germany—Where Do We Go From Here?" Friday evening in the Detroit City club. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

The panel will be made up of five speakers, with Col. Bruce Booth, 1740 Penitence, as moderator.

Dr. W. A. Bohstedt, a native of Germany who has been in this country for the past 10 years, will be a panel member. He was active in the political life of Germany as a member of the Social-Democratic party.

Jan Leonhardt, anti-Nazi leader and former mayor of the free city of Danzig, will also be heard. Eugene Herz, another local resident and former consultant to banks in Germany and the Netherlands, is another panel member.

Gerhardt Treffehn, a graduate exchange student from Germany to Michigan State College, and former paratrooper has also been chosen to speak. He has been in the United States only three weeks.

The final member of the panel will be Maj. John J. Hamel, a former member of the military government from the United States in Germany.

Mail Truck Bids

Bernard E. Fowler, acting postmaster, has announced that the office is accepting bids on trucks for use during the Christmas rush.

Interested persons should apply at the post office at once, he said.
