It Says Here...

 The Baton business club met Tuesday afternoon to make plans for a sleighride to be given Saturday night.

The Scribblers Club held a meeting yesterday at the Community House. Each member brought an original essay to enter in the scholastic writing award contest.

The usual procedure of club meeting seemed dull, so the Tiana girls decided to do something about it. Their meeting Saturday at Carolyn Abbott's was far from normal. The meeting began with new business and went backwards through old business and committee reports to roll to make it even more unusual, everything had to be sung instead of spoken. The result was a hilarious incident.

Tri-A meeting was at Lois McLeese's Saturday night. Discussion was centered on plans for a party which the club is giving Feb. 26. The evening will begin with a sleighride for the girls and their dates. Square dancing will follow the sleighride.

Sunday afternoon, Sapphire Club met at Mary Jo Dewey's. The girls spent the afternoon making plans for a toboggan party.

Because their Valentine dance has been called off, the CTA meeting was at Joyce Thomas' last Saturday.

KST meeting was at Dave Chalk's last Saturday night. The boys and their dates. Square dancing in the near future.

Other clubs held meetings Saturday night. Black and White club members gathered at Chuck Olin's and DFER met at Paul Trichel's.

The Navy has sold a total of 419 combatant vessels for scrap or for conversion to peacetime pursuits.

Announces Cast of 2 Cranbrook Plays

Judy Farmer will play the title role when the music departments of Cranbrook and Kingswood schools present "Patience" on March 4 and 5. John Rice will be heard as Reginald Buckthorne and Robert Kerns as Archibald Grosvenor, rivals for Patience's affection.

Others in the cast will include Carol Lombard, Patty Jewett, Sue Cunningham, Tally Carr, Peter Higgins, David Seaber and David Simpson.

"Trial by Jury" has been selected as the curtain raiser. The one act play will feature Barbara Behn as Angelina, the plaintiff. Other roles will be played by these members of the Cranbrook faculty: Carl G. Wonnberger, director of Ergeration and the Cranbrook Summer School of the Theater; Edw. Edwin, the defendant; Bruce Coulter, head of the Lower School as the counsel; Merrill Condit and Templem Licklider, the judge and usher; W. Brooke Stabler, headmaster of Cranbrook will, as foreman, preside over a jury made up of Cranbrook masters.

Tickets are in charge of Ronald Ballantyne and Tom Tomlinson with David Ball directing the stage crew. Sets are being prepared by members of the art department under the guidance of Richard Hintermeister and Robert Lehman. The Cranbrook orchestra is being directed by Axel Magnuson, Jr., while Roberts Bates, assisted by Merrell Condit, has charge of the entire production.

News Notes from Vaughan School

Among the mid-winter sports, bowling gets a lot of attention from the Vaughan students, and the Hills alleys are crowded on Thursday afternoons when the school teams compete. In the Bloomfield Hills High School League, John Nicell has broken two all-time league records. John bowled 219 and 235. The latter score broke all the school records for high game, and the two together totalled 454 to establish the high 2 record.

Bob Hunt received a painful injury recently when he was accidentally kicked in the face after falling down on the soccer field. An X-ray showed no broken bones, but the experience has certainly not been a very pleasant one for Bob. He is now back in school, with a black eye and swollen cheek, but the same cheerful smile.

At a recent meeting of the Science Club, sponsored by Edward Dykstra, the members were requested to bring projects for work or demonstration. Peter Linder brought a steam engine and showed it. The engine worked fine. Dick Martz made a little crystal set. Fred Ward worked on a leather knife case. Ted Watson brought some trophies and ribbons that he has won at dog shows. The members constructed a small one-tube radio and listened to it.

March of Dimes Is Success at School

Showing its usual spirit, Baldwin high school once again reached a high peak in its March of Dimes campaign.

K.S.T., one of the social clubs, took charge of the campaign. Larry Miller, chairman, reported that students contributed $35.22. Ken Babcock was chief assistant to Larry.

With her committee from Sapphire Club, Norma Kacs successfully carried on the drive at the theatres. Howard Holah, manager of the Birmingham Theater, praised the group highly, saying that the girls "were right on the job and this year's handling of the campaign was the best yet."

A new woodworking machine for the home, powered by a quarter-horsepower electric motor, can serve as a circular saw, sander, jointer, lathe and polisher, or as a horizontal auger and rotating file.

Six New Students As Mid-Year Term Ends

With mid-semester examinations over and new classes scheduled, students are back to work until June.

The total enrollment this semester is approximately 538 students. There are six newcomers as contrasted with 41 new students enrolled last September.

Local School Choir Sings at Wedding

A performance unique in the annals of the Baldwin choir was given last Friday night when the cappella choir sang at the wedding of Miss Dottie Moore and Gene Richardson.

The ceremony began with a "Benediction" of Wagner's "Wedding March" and ended with the "Agnus Dei" arrangement of the "Love's Prayer". As a prelude, Victor Ulich, choir director, sang "Because".

After the ceremony choir members attended the reception.
