

Mary Louise Colgrove is Married at Noon Ceremony

St. Hugo of the Hills was the setting Saturday noon for the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Colgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Colgrove of Puritan road to John Thomas O'Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morris O'Shaughnessy of Grosse Pointe are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Francis J. Stack officiated at the rites which were performed before an altar banked with white flowers and candelabra. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin of her own design with a deep net yoke trimmed in seed pearls. The bodice was fitted, the long sleeves came to traditional points over the wrists and her full skirt fell into a cathedral train. A rose pointed lace cap which her maternal grandmother wore held her double fold veil of illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. John Palms of Birmingham was her sister's matron of honor in a green faille dress styled with a square neckline, a bustle back and a full skirt. She wore a matching halo trimmed with a bow in the back, and carried a bouquet of deep red carnations.

Miss Nancy Pierce of Birmingham acted as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Edith Kendall, Miss Mary Hill and Miss Martha Fox, all of Birmingham. They wore gowns identical to the honor matron's. Their flowers were yellow carnations and Miss Pierce carried deep red carnations. They too wore halos of matching material on their heads. Martin O'Shaughnessy acted as his brother's best man and the groom was escorted by Jack Ford of Ann Arbor; Dick Wakefield of Chicago; Virgil Clingan and John McNamara of Detroit; Robert Spiegel of Cleveland and Philip Pratt of Pontiac.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Colgrove wore a dusty pink full length gown with a crepe skirt and lace top. Her hat was of black feathers and she wore a black orchid pinned to her shoulder. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was in a grey gown with a full length skirt. Her gown was highlighted with a white plumed grey hat and a yellow orchid corsage. Following the reception which was held at the Village Players Playhouse, the couple left on a wedding trip to the south. For her going away ensemble, the new Mrs. O'Shaughnessy selected a cocoa toned gabardine suit with a dark brown topper and a feather trimmed hat. Upon their return, they will make their home in Grosse Pointe.
