Cooperation of Home And School to Help Child is PTA Theme

"How Can the School and the Home Cooperate to Help the Child?" is the theme of the first 1949 regular meeting of the Adams school PTA scheduled for Monday, Jan. 10 at 8:00 p. m. in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Caroline Loughran, visiting teacher of the Birmingham school system will describe "A Common Sense Way to 'Cooperate'." This talk will follow the presentation of two recent films: "Meeting the Emotional Needs of Children" and "Your Child is a Genius". The entire meeting is designed to bring practical ideas to parents and teachers alike on means of obtaining even closer cooperation for the benefit of the child.

Miss Geraldine Woolley is Married in Evening Service

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and daisies, the Rev. Arnold Runkel, assisted by the Rev. William Lovejoy, united in marriage Miss Geraldine Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Woolley of Floyd street, and Thomas Earl Brehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brehm of Franklin Village. The rites were performed in an evening ceremony on Dec. 30 at the First Methodist Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in camelias white satin. The dress was fashioned with a high neckline, a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt which swept into a cathedral train. Her finger-ring veil was held with a seed pearl halo and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lily.

As maid of honor, Miss Alita Toothacker wore a peach jaffeta gown and carried a cascade of peach toned carnations. Matching flowers were in her hair.

Miss Marilyn Davey and Miss Mary Lou Mulholland, both of Birmingham, served as bridesmaids in gowns of powder blue. Their flowers were cascade arrangements of blue carnations. Miss Susie Meyer of Royal Oak, in pink taffeta and with white ribbon in her hair, was the flower girl. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Wed New Year's Day

Miss Rosalie Renner of Akron, Ohio, and Wilson F. Groves of West Lincoln avenue, Birmingham, were married in a 4:30 o'clock ceremony on New Year's Day in her Akron home. They will reside in Ohio.

Robert A. Woolley of Royal Oak; Lloyd Politick of Compton, Ill., and John Miller of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Woolley chose a light blue crepe full length gown with a pink hat, silver accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Brehm wore a green full length dress with a green hat, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the reception which was held at the church parlors, the young couple left for two weeks in Vermont. For her going away ensemble, the new Mrs. Brehm selected a gray gabardine suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Upon their return, they will make their home in Franklin Village.

Pouring at the reception were Mary Baines, Elizabeth Welch, Mrs. Lloyd Politick, a sister of the bride and Mrs. Robert Woolley, a sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Marie Owens of Burlington, Iowa, and Mrs. Lester Woolley of Arlington, Ill., cut the wedding cake. Miss Sally Roseberry was soloist before the wedding service.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Politick and son, of Pawpaw, Ill.; Mrs. Marie Owens of Burlington, Iowa; Mrs. Lester Woolley of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Peck of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaFever of Flint.
