

Township to Compile Burial Records for Southfield Cemetery

By Lillian Diederich
SOUTHFIELD—At the meeting of the Southfield town board Tuesday evening, Dudley P. Frame, supervisor, reported on the investigation he had made concerning the erection of out-door toilets for the Dodge-Southfield park. He presented blueprints of those at the Kensington park on Grand River, which he said could be built for about $75 each. After examining the blueprints, the board approved the erection of two.
Approval was also given on the request of Evelyn Kresson for the dance studio which she proposes to operate at 26211 Telegraph. The place is now known as the Wagonwheel Antique shop.

Mrs. Fannie Adams, township clerk, requested that someone be appointed to set up a filing system for the Southfield township cemetery. Mrs. Adams said that she received many requests for information on relatives and friends sought to visit graves. She pointed out that the former sexton, now deceased, had kept no record and that a great deal of time was consumed in trying to locate lots. The board approved her request and named Cliff Hughes, 26296 Berg road, to establish complete records.
News and society copy must be in the Eccentric editorial office by 5 o'clock each Tuesday afternoon. Deadline for society club news is noon each Monday.

Through their efforts and cooperation with Tompkins, the following types of aircraft will be seen at the fair:

STARVATION IN THE MIDST OF PLENTY
We usually think of our Country as a land of relative plenty. While a number of persons who are severely malnourished is not large, those who live at or below the (adequate) intake level for some of the vitamins, proteins, and mineral elements make up a share of our population.
