We take our hat off to

Ve take our hat off to Volcano's Crater

the Veauvius Observatory, recently explored the floor of the volcano's rater.

The director got to the bottom of the crater for the first time that any man has explored it in thirty years. He has been trying to make the descent since the last erruption in March, 1944.

Signor Imbo reached the crater floor weans of ropes to inspect the solidi-

Signor Imbo reached the crater floor by means of ropes to inspect the solidified lava and deep crevices, many of them giving off sulphurous amoke. He found no indication that the volcano, recently inactive, has an eruption scheduled for the early future.

But for us, personally, we prefer the less hazardous job of trying to get our car across Woodward at 14 Mile road.

Poor Something tremendously devastating has happened in at least one very important at least one very important in the land. Grasp a piece of what was once a beautiful tree, and try to make it effective; it breaks and literally falls apart right where you want to use it. Something should be done about it—maybe a Congressional investigation.

maybe a Congressional investigation, or something. We refer to the lowly, but quite necessary wood toothpick. Have you, too, noticed that, especially with the flat ones, their points refuse to remain as part of this universally used tool?

Little Things

One of the perver-Cause Trouble sities of human nature is that very often individuals blessed with many things in common, disagree violently and unintelligently upon the merits of a relatively minor matter.

There seems to be a trait in many in-dividuals that compels them to be fighting about something all the time. If no major issues appear, they vigorously pump up minor questions, arousing ill-feeling and prompting them into positions of seeming importance.

Much the same characteristic is evidenced in our attitude toward the institutions of mankind. Without giving proper proportion to the great and overwhelming good, many of us incline to hunt up minor irritations and in the excitement of the search, we often lose citement of the search, we often lose sight of the tremendous good that exists 100 American school teachers, completing a year of teaching in England under a British-American exchange system, were given a chance to meet and shake hands with Queen Elizabeth. They said it was 'the highlight' of their year in Britain. Well, the Queen is a grand lady of except but only a human being.

Evidently not over-im

What Will Evidently not over-impressed by the problems and perplexities which confront the forward-looking astronomers sometimes speculate on what will eventually happen to the globe that we call the earth

The earth.

The experts generally agree that the most likely fate is that the sun will explode, shriveling the earth in a sudden, hot death.

hot death.

Other less likely fates include the cooling of the sun so that the earth will be frozen waste-land, the destruction of the earth because of a smash-up between our sun and another star, the destruction of the earth through a collision with a comet and the possibility that the moon might come so close to the learth as to create tidal waves and volcances to wipe out the habitation of man. While people seem to be interested in

While people seem to be interested in the effort to understand the future, there is no occasion for anyone to become excited. The experts do not think that the sun will explode during the next billion years, or more. We don't expect to be years, or more. We don't hanging around that long.

Know Your Future Mate whom she accused of swindling her out of a substantial sum of money.

Police described the man as a veteran Police described the man as a veteran operator, who has preyed on women for half a century. They related other instances where, under assumed names, he paid court to wealthy women and eventually disappeared with their money or jewels. According to the authorities, the man has an international reputation as a swindler.

The publicity given the experience of these women may serve a useful purpose if it warms other women and teaches them to investigate the character and credentials of ardent suitors, who, despite avowals of love, require ready cash.

Siesmographs last week recorded a sight earthquake, supposedly in the vicinity of Michigan's Straits of Machigan's Straits of Machigan's Outprose this was nature's reaction to Governor Williams' dreamy proposal for a hundred million dollar bridge over the Straits?

The Birmingham Eccentric

Published every Thursday, at Birmingham, Mich., in the Eccentric Building, 220-222 North Woodward Avenue

| Telephone 11, 12, 1               | and 14                   |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|
| GEORGE R. AVERILL                 | Editor and Publisher     |
| PAUL NEAL AVERILL                 | Business Manager         |
| GEORGE WM. AVERILL                | Managing Editor          |
| HAROLD P. BUERGE                  | Advertising Manager      |
| Entered as Second Class Matter in | the U. S. Post Office at |
| Birmingham, Michigan, under the   | Act of March 8, 1879.    |

|  | ION RATES  |
|--|--|
| (In Oakland County)  | (Outside Oakland County)                                     |
| One Year$2.50   | One Year$3.50   |
| Six Months 1.75  | Six Months 2.25  |
| Three Months 1.00  | Three Months 1.50  |
| The Eccentric is a member of:Michigan Press Association,   | National Editorial Associationand University Press Club. |
| NOTE: The Eccentric is plesuted material providing it hasare welcomed. Contributionficially so that they conform | news value; and suggestionss are usually edited super-   |

Happenings of Long Ago

Stewart Leonard met with a painful accident recently. While cutting brush he made a slip and cut his foot, severing an artery. Dr. Galbraith of Pontiac was called and dreashd the wound. Now the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

The heree that was rented from Wm. Baum a couple of weeks ago was found in a stable at Orchard left there by a Mr. Whiter, who gave his address as Gread River road. Since Wm. Baum found the horse, himself, he isn't going to have be pay that $25 eward he-have be pay that $25 eward he-

Goo. J. Warner isn't saying much but keeps on sawing wood just the same and the early part of the week sold a horse for the neat sum of a thousand dollars. That is the kind of horses to raise and also the way to sell 'em Geo. has more of the same class, too.

20 YEARS AGO August 1, 1929

August 1, 1929
James Anderson, Ir., for the past eight years chief of the Birmingham police department, has submitted his resignation to the members of the village commission. He will continue as active head of the department until the appointment of his successor.

and Insular Affairs Communes compaints were registered, gainst the village Monday night
by members of the Birmingham Golf club regarding the poliution could be regarding the poliution comment on the letter, and ordered the matter filed for further study and investigation.

Because a Detroiter could not pay the $10 fine levied against him by Justice Floyd Buck, for taking undersized has from an Osaland with the court. The fine was paid Monday and the property restored to the owner.

A representative of the Wabeak

A

A representative of the Wabeek corporation, Monday night asked the removal of three trees on West Maple, between the Wabeek building and the Parmenter flower shop. The matter was tabled and will be given a public hearing on August 12.

The 82 local boys and their 15 camp leaders have returned from a joyous ten days at Lake Copneconic, where they were guests at the YMCA camp. The registration has far exceeded any previous year, according to Robert Lynd, general secretary of the Birmingham Y.

5 YEARS AGO
Dorothy Nett, 4383 Three Mile drive, is in Pontiac General hospital after receiving painful incrashed Monday evening northcast of Birmingham. The cause of the crash is not known. Miss Nett is a member of Detroit's Victory Flying Service.

women have friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar regularly that after received the friendship to be with a poar and the friendship to be a possible to be a possible to be friendship to be a possible to be a

Stormy Weather

Fate of Michigan Marginal Mines in Hands of Senate Committee

WASHINGTON—The fate of Michigan copper mines may be decided in the next few days.

All despends on the strategic personnel of the program are contained in the appropriation for the national establishment, which is now being considered by the Senate Appropriations Committee. And Jevernal considered by the Senate Appropriations Committee. And Jevernal setablishment, which is now being considered by the Senate Appropriations Committee. And Jevernal considered by the Senate Appropriation of the Committee and the Senate Interior of the Committee States would need in a war fie limited to one year. Committee of the Co

THE ECCENTRIC'S

Camera Corner

A medium yellow filter will help you to picture fleecy, billowing clouds on bright, sunny days.

Filters to Help Your Pictures

A FRIEND of mine who has been the other day with a grant plant of the control of the con

"Any Way You Slice It"

HAL P. BUERGE

You never can tell in what business you are going to fall the clutches of an unscrupulops crook, and this story is another example of how the poor, unsuspecting public is their shirts to the fiends that prey upon the trusting clientel

You meet them every day in various and sundry businesses all over the country on the main streets of our largest cities and at the crossroads in our timest hamlets. On the farms and in our factories, one is liable to run into an insufferable sharpie at every bend of the road.

Somewhere in this favored land, there must be some field of endeavor still free of these muckers. Perhaps it is the newspaper business, but I guess that can be catalogued with my more stupid observations. Anyway, before I wander too far from my original theme, it's a pity the way the purchasers are being taken.

Some of you may not be ready to accept this proven truth and to the rest of you it will no doubt prove a crub bloot to your morale. It may even the better to leave uncovered some of these sordid examples of men taking advantage of fellowman, but my oath as a reporter of all the news that's fit to print compels me to air them.

print compels me to air inem.

Now that I have prepared you for the pangs that will surely pierce your heart when you hear it, I will inform you that a notable case of dishonesty has been brought to light in the bait dispensing division of the fishing industries. It's a fact, and proof has been established by information gleaned from the findings of Rullie Reese and Joe Moery, local business men, who conducted this amaging test which will be set down among the classics in the airhals of game research.

It has been established by this piscatorial pair that at least one vendor of tantalizing lidbits to tempt the taste of the finnry tribe should craud into one of his worm cans to bring the measure closer to an exact count.

the measure closer to an exact count.

A couple of weeks ago our fact finders went on a fishing trip up north, where it was their good fortune to fish on a private lake that was so well stocked that the fish were continually swimming into each other. Their noses were all sore from ramming into one another broadside. To be hooked by a fisherman is considered a means of escape only to be indulged in by a privileged few. This honor is fought for by the bigger and stronger lish on a "winner-get-caught" basis. This process is termed the "demise of the fittest."

On their way to this anglers' paradise, Rollie and Joe stop-ped by the side of the road at a bait shack where they paid for, and supposedly received, one hundred worms. Now, let me tell you how this cunning, conniving, culprit literally cut their throng. cut their throats.

Once on the lake, our sportsmen started baiting their hooks, always careful to see that none spilled out of the can and making sure that only one worm was pressed into service. They hauled fish out as fast as they could bait their hooks and in no time they had their limit for the day. Fifty worms and fifty fish. A mighty fine batting average.

he hatting average.

Next day they took the same can of worms and started over again, Proceeding at the same pace of one worm and one fish, they soon had fortysix fish ... but what's this ... the worms were all gone! The eager fish had taken advantage of every worm and still they had only ninety-six fish.

That viper at the bait dispensory had gyped them out of four worms which is actually much worse than it sounds, because it cheated them out of four fish. This story is only related as a warning to everyone who intends to go fishing this summer. Always count your worns hefore driving away. No adjustments can be made after you leave the bait shack. "That's too much bother," you eay? Okay, do like I do, buy your worms in advance and take them home and have your wife count them.

By Gene Alleman

American-Can-

Secur-place at reign of the British and French there then came to an end.

AULT STE. MARIE—Securfonces are back in place at St. Mary's falls cairal.
It the close of World War II army, engineers reinvoyd the steel barriers. Troops left brady it was abandoning the catabilished in 1823.
The catabilished in 1823.
The Hitler's Natis were tatening to invade England and proceed by Greenland toward continent, American worker is near the Soo. Anti-aircraft, pas moved freely on both side
the American-Canadian interonal boundary.

The centennial of the Soo's first canal locks, now one of the leading tourist attractions of Michie fanal locks, now one of the leading the state of the state of the canal locks, now one of the leading the state of the state of the canal locks, now one of the leading the state of the canal colors, now one of the leading the state of the state of the canal locks, now one of the leading the state of the state of the canal locks, now one of the leading the state of the canal locks are canal the state of the canal colors and canal colors are canal colors and canad
ca around the falls.

The centennial of the Soo's first canal locks, now one of the leading tourist at least the soo of the leading tourist at least the state of the least the state of the least the state legislature has recognized the event, and a bill is now before Congress to assure federal participation.