

Brungraber-Meyer Vows are Exchanged Saturday at Four

Miss Irene Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Meyer of Peterson, Iowa, became the bride Saturday of L. Edward Brungraber, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Brungraber of Ann street, Birmingham.

The double ring rites were performed by the Rev. K. G. Haden in the Trinity Lutheran Church in Linn Grove at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride's dress was of white satin cut along traditional lines and her finger-ring veil was held by a beaded tiara. She carried only a white Bible.

Mrs. Donovan Meyer, served her sister-in-law as matron of honor and Miss Carol Meyer, her daughter, was the flower girl. Their floor length dresses were of turquoise silk shantung and Mrs. Meyer's flowers were of yellow daisies. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Robert Sabban of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Mary Lee Brungraber, a sister of the bridegroom.

Both were gowned in floor-length dresses of chartreuse silk shantung and carried bouquets of white daisies.

H. Stanley Ford of Birmingham was the best man and seating the guests were Robert Byrne of

Navin-Ritchie Rites Read in Grosse Pointe

Christ Church in Grosse Pointe was the setting for the four o'clock nuptials on Saturday of Miss Alice Anne Ritchie, daughter of Mr. Alexander Buel Quirk of St. Clair avenue and Stuart Thomas Ritchie of Chicago, and Robert Ellwood Navin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Navin of Southfield road, Birmingham.

The bride's princess-style gown of white pique featured a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves and unpressed pleats in the skirt which swept into a short train. Her finger-ring veil of illusion was held by a Swedish lace cap and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and eucharistic.

Miss Jennie Buel Quirk was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Frank Koebel, Miss Marjorie Suzanne Kemp, Miss Marion McCracken of Pleasant Ridge, and Mrs. Thomas Randall Navin, Jr. of West Acton, Mass. Miss Rosalind Navin was flower girl. The attendants' gowns, also of white pique, were of ankle-length fashioned with lace boleros, cape-sleeved jackets, empire waistlines and full gathered skirts. Their flowers were white and yellow daisies and blue cornflowers.

The ushers included Thomas R. Navin, Jr. of West Acton, a brother of the bridegroom; William J. Taylor, John Duncan McLean of Far Rockaway, L. I., and David Hughes. Mr. Navin served his son as the best man.

For the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Henry Lewis of Ann Arbor and the reception which followed at the University Club, the bride's mother wore an ankle-length dress of grey organdy. Red carnations were featured at the waistline. Mrs. Navin was in peacock blue lace and her corsage was made up of white carnations.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will reside in the Alden Park Manor.
