

Government Branches Discussed at League Meeting on Monday

"How to Catch Up on the Three Branches of Your Government in 100 Minutes" was the topic of the June meeting of the League of Women Voters held Monday in the Community House.

Mrs. J. Graham Shinnick covered the state business. She spoke on the president's breakfast. Mrs. K. B. K'burg's topic was voters' service institute; Mrs. Philip Hart spoke on children's services; Mrs. Brooks Marshall handled taxation and Mrs. S. James Duncan reappointment.

Mrs. Robert G. Silber described the recently adopted 1949-50 city budget and Mrs. William Jackson talked on Monday's school election, while Mrs. Howard Liverance analyzed decisions of the National League of Women Voters Council.

Mrs. Shinnick, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. J. W. Richardson as finance chairman for the fall drive, and Mrs. Harvey Forest as office chairman. Mrs. Hart announced her committee members as Mrs. Edwin Y. Clarke, Mrs. Ogden Vogt, Mrs. Thomas Sheehan, Mrs. Frank G. Smith, Mrs. William Kennedy and Mrs. Charles Rickert.

Miss Helene Jarvis is Married to Wiley Hitchcock

In the First Presbyterian Church of Albion on Saturday, Miss Helene Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Jarvis of East Erie street, Albion, became the bride of Wiley Hitchcock. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hitchcock of Brady lane, Bloomfield Hills. Officiating at the double ring nuptials was the Rev. Herbert Bryce.

Wearing white organdy, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The gown had a high round neckline, delicate puffed sleeves and a bouffant skirt with panels of accordion pleats. Her veil was of white lace and her flowers were made up in an all white garland arrangement.

Mrs. Francis Pfaff of Albion was her sister's matron of honor in yellow marquisette. She wore matching yellow lace hat and carried all white daisies. Another sister, Mrs. Donald Rader of Detroit served as bridesmaid. She too was gowned in yellow marquisette with a matching lace hat and carried a white daisy bouquet.

Mr. Hugh Hitchcock was his son's best man and the guests were taken to their seats by Richard Strickland of Birmingham.

William P. Walls of Detroit; Lewis Pankaskie of Ann Arbor and a brother of the bride, Aubrey Jarvis of Detroit.

At the wedding and the reception which was held in the Schuler hotel in Marshall, Mich. Mrs. Jarvis was in toast tones. Her hat was a natural straw and her corsage was made up of brown orchids. Mrs. Hitchcock chose brown marquisette and completed her ensemble with a blue feathered hat and delphinium corsage. The couple have left for France where they will spend the summer. Mrs. Hitchcock's going away ensemble was a beige linen suit with a natural straw hat and black accessories. In the fall, they will live in Dexter, Mich.

League Expanding to Other Nations

There is now a League of Women Voters in Japan and soon there will be a similar organization in Germany in addition to the 729 Women Voters organizations in the United States.

Mrs. Howard Liverance has reported action of the National council conference held recently in Washington, D. C. This council acts as an interim executive body between conventions. Carrying out the idea originally expressed by Carrie Chapman Catt when she organized the League in this country, the national board is now using money from funds given in her name to teach women of other countries the ways and means of good citizenship and democratic government as well as women's part in bringing it about. Seven German women were brought to America through this fund to learn democratic citizenship and they have now returned to organize their people for better citizenship. Some members of the national board plan to journey to Germany at their own expense to help in this enterprise. A national board member was sent to Italy, also on money from this fund, for the purpose of working with women on techniques of democratic living, Mrs. Liverance reported.
