O'Connor Opens Detroit Office

There's apparently nothing superstitious about Maurice F. O'Connor, who selected June 13 as the date to launch a career as a manufacturers' agent to Detroit's paint industry. He has opened an office at 823 Fisher Building and will handle a line of raw materials which include solvents, pigments and driers.

O'Connor, 27 of 2278 Avon Lane, Birmingham, was born in Indianapolis, spent his early years in Birmingham, and was educated at Babson Institute.

After his discharge from the Army in February, 1946, he joined the technical service staff of Reichhold Chemicals, Inc. and was located at Reichhold's South San Francisco plant until the first of this year, when he was transferred to Detroit.

Less than one-ninth of the original stand of virgin timber is left in this country.
